Some of Names Furnished by President Wilson, It Is Generally Understood at the Capital.

RIVAL SUGAR CAMPS PITCHED AT CAPITAL

Committee Finds That Both Factions Maintain General Offices and Have Carried on Organized Fight.

Washington, June 4.—The dragnet was spread today in the senate's probe of "the lobby." Subpoenaes for a score of men were issued. It was generally understood here that some of the names were furnished by President Wilson and that others were those which developed in the testimony of senators. The new witnesses are to be heard next week. Some of the names are being kept secret, but Chairman Overton today gave out this partial list:

Aaron Gove, Denver; Dr. S. W. McClure, Salt Lake City, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association; Henry F. Oxnard, New York, prominent in the beet sugar industry; Edward F. Dickinson and Jules Godchaux, representing Louisiana sugar interests; Sidney M. Ballou, E. E. Paxton, H. D. Mead and Walter G. Smith, also understood to be interested in sugar tariff affairs; John F. Hamburg, New York; Harry Irwin, H. T. Alexander, Trenton, N. J.; Frank Gordon, Buford Lynch and John Carroll, all of Washington.

Some of these are men whom senators have testified appeared in "a legitimate capacity."

The list indicates the apparent purpose of the committee to question representatives of both the free sugar and anti-free sugar camps who have been conducting a vigorous campaign in Washington.

Rival War Camps.

Ramifications of the sugar tariff fight being conducted outside the halls of congress gave the committee a busy two hours late this afternoon. With Senator Ransdell, of Louisiana, as the chief witness, members of the investigating committee pried into every phase of the fight between free sugar and anti-free sugar forces, and established the fact that general offices are maintained by both factions, and that a systematic and organized fight has been carried on for and against the free sugar provision indorsed by President Wilson.

The activity of the sugar tariff forces was partially responsible for Senator Wilson's statement that powerful lobbying influences are at work in Washington to effect changes in the tariff bill. Several names were added today to the list of persons who are being subpoenaed by the senate committee, and who will testify Saturday as to whether or not they are "lobbyists." These included employees of a bureau maintained here by the Louisiana Sugar growers, and various persons who have been connected with the anti-free sugar fight.

Activity of Sugar Growers.

Senator Ransdell disclosed freely the organized activity of the Louisiana Sugar Cane growers, but he believed little money had been spent, as compared with the amount spent by Claus Spreckels, the Federal Sugar Refining company, and Frank C. Lowry, of New York, said to be an employee of that company, in the attempts to create a public sentiment in favor of free sugar.

"I urged the Louisiana people to organize two years ago and combat this false sentiment that was being created in favor of free sugar," he said, "but they did not act in time."

The investigating committee had progressed little more than half through the list of senators today and there were indications that Senator Overman would ask the senate tomorrow for an extension of the ten days allowed for the probe.

A flock of sergeants-at-arms started out today to summon the witnesses for next week, by which time the investigators will have finished taking testimony of senators and plunge into an examination of the so-called "lobbyists."

President's Suggestion.

This new turn of affairs many believe is "one of the suggestions" President Wilson made at his recent conference with Chairman Overman and Senator Reed, of the investigating committee, and many of the president's friends predict it will be Mr. Wilson's answer to the testimony of many senators that they have seen no lobbyists in Washington and know of no attempts to influence congressmen against the Underwood bill.

While the subpoenaes are being served and the committee is preparing for the examination of the new witnesses, senators will continue to be examined. When the committee reassembled today, it had nearly half of the senate still waiting.

To Organize Bookblacks.

New York, June 4.—Steps are being taken to organize a union of bootblacks in New York. In this connection, the estimate is made that there are over 60,000 of them in the city, or one to about every 100 persons. In many cases their earnings are as low as $5 a week and those who are employed by the standholders complain of long hours.

ORDERS FOR WOMAN'S EDITION CAN STILL BE FILLED

In anticipation of the large demand for the Woman's Edition a considerable surplus was printed. Notwithstanding the large sale in Atlanta and the state, limited orders can still be filled at 10 cents per copy, postage prepaid to all addresses in the United States.

WIRES FROM NEAR AND FAR BRING CONGRATULATIONS ON FEAT OF WOMAN'S EDITION

No publication of any nature has ever been accorded the praise and appreciation of the people of Georgia as did the Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution, issued on Wednesday. This beautiful and colossal edition since the moment it rolled from The Constitution presses has commanded the wonder and admiration of the entire state. Until late last night telegrams of congratulation from prominent people in all parts of Georgia poured into The Constitution office in an unbroken stream. These are some of the things that the people of Georgia think about this unique edition:

Proved Woman's Importance.

Americus, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The splendid edition of the club women of Georgia of The Constitution was read with great interest and pleasure. This work demonstrates the great importance of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs as factors in the making of moral, social and political betterment. Their efforts are deeply appreciated, and the worthy cause for which they are striving should and will meet with universal approval and success.

M. M. LOWERY,
Mayor of Americus.

Mayor Rowe Calls It Splendid.

Athens, Ga., June 4.—(Special)—The splendid edition gotten out in the realization of an endowment fund in memory of Mrs. Ella F. White is but one evidence of what enthusiasm, system, energy, tact and loving interest can accomplish. Taking advantage of the generous offer of The Constitution, the good women of the Federation of Women's Clubs in Georgia have produced a piece of newspaper work which is monumental in more than one way. The matter reveals the activities of the clubs, the manner indicates the ability of the staff, the immense paper evidences the ability to consummate large things in a cherished cause.

H. J. ROWE, Mayor of Athens.

An Argument For Suffrage.

Waycross, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The woman's edition is a splendid example of what women can do. It amply demonstrates that Georgia women succeed at anything they take in hand. Their activity is the greatest influence in the state for good health, morals, education, temperance, proper care of unfortunates, improved labor conditions, protection of women and children, and development of local civic pride. Their interest ennobles every undertaking and inspires men to greater and more unselfish efforts. Let us bring this influence into our political affairs of the state. Women suffrage would mean less politics and the conduct of public affairs for the benefit of the people.

HARRY D. REED,
Mayor of Waycross.

Macon's Mayor Lauds Edition.

Macon, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The lovely woman-made Constitution of today is the climax of the modern newspaper world. It is a colossal compendium of woman's work in every sphere, and an art gallery of Georgia beauties. The edition is the most unique in the history of southern newspapers, and proves that women's will, heart and brains can accomplish much. I don't know who deserves congratulations the most—The Constitution, on issuing such a paper, or the women's brains that made it such a splendid journalistic achievement.

JOHN T. MOORE,
Mayor of Macon.

Cover Kansas With Papers.

Fitzgerald, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The Womans' Edition of The Constitution, out today, reflects great credit upon the distinguished women of Georgia, and The Constitution. I will spend my vacation of thirty days this summer reading a portion of its contents. Send a copy of this paper to the mayor of every town in the state of Kansas if you can spare them, sending bill to me. The club women of the west have accomplished much for their states, and I want them to know what our Georgia women are doing. It was a great undertaking and magnificently executed and I am gratified to note that the south Georgia women played an important part in this laudable enterprise.

A. B. COOK,
Mayor of Fitzgerald.

Presents It In Book Form.

Columbus, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The Woman's Edition of The Constitution is an impressive tribute to the memory of a noble Georgia woman, whose life was devoted to the organization and federation of woman's clubs, designed for the preservation of southern traditions and the promotion of social and intellectual culture in our state. The Woman's Edition will perpetuate the memory of Mrs. White and has inaugurated a movement designed to continue her work with unabated zeal.

It speaks for the talent, skill and enterprise of the women by whom it is edited and for the liberality of The Constitution Publishing company in placing the plant at their disposal. The Woman's Edition of The Constitution is too valuable and interesting to be cast lightly aside. It should be preserved in book form.

L. H. CHAPPELL,
Mayor of Columbus.

Roscoe Luke Congratulates.

Thomasville, Ga., June 4.—(Special.) The hundred and twenty-six page edition of The Constitution issued by the women of Georgia is a splendid journalistic and typographical feat. This edition will make apparent to people of the nation the fact that Georgia's womanhood is productive of results helpful to the manhood and womanhood of the state. It will make our own people appreciative of the enormous weight and influence the club women of Georgia have in the development of our resources and the training of our citizens for better lives. Many congratulations to you and to the publishing committee of this edition of your always splendid paper.

ROSCOE LUKE,
Mayor of Thomasville.

A Journalistic Achievement.

Griffin, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—Permit me to offer sincere congratulations upon the magnificent journalistic achievement recorded in your management and Georgia's noble and capable club women in issuing the splendid special Woman's Edition of The Constitution this morning. I am convinced that its beneficial results are bound to be commensurate with its own far reaching publicity scope as well as with the lofty spirit, the rare talent and wonderful energy of those who made it such a distinct and signal success. Particularly I am delighted with the very attractive page which the able and patriotic club women of Griffin contributed to the adornment and interest of the edition.

J. H. SMITH,
Mayor of Griffin.

An Impetus to Club Work.

Albany, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The Woman's Edition of The Constitution, which reached Albany with its hundred and twenty-six pages of interesting matter this morning, came fully up to my expectations and the expectations of our people. I think the women of Georgia deserve the heartiest congratulations upon the splendid success which they have made of this enterprise. The edition will, no doubt, prove a great impetus to the work of

TWO GOVERNORS PRAISE WOMAN'S EDITION ISSUE

From Governor-Elect.

"This morning's edition of The Constitution is a magnificent tribute to the enterprise and ability of the federated women of Georgia.

"I had naturally expected a splendid issue of The Constitution as the result of the combined efforts of the women of the state, but I am frank to say that the result was far beyond my expectations. I have never seen anything that approached it, and I convinced that its beneficial results are bound to be commensurate with its own far reaching publicity scope as well as with the lofty spirit, the rare talent and wonderful energy of those who made it such a distinct and signal success. Particularly I am delighted with the very attractive page which the able and patriotic club women of Griffin contributed to the adornment and interest of the edition.

J. H. SMITH,
Mayor of Griffin.

From the Governor.

"The Ella F. White Memorial Edition of The Constitution is more than an incident in the annals of journalism. It is a strange and triumphant chapter in the history of the state of Georgia. For here we witness, in the pages of one issue of a newspaper, the glory and the sweetness that is the historic meaning of womanhood; the fullness of its achievement of today and the bewildering promise of its dawning destiny.

"Through my long business and public life I am somewhat familiar with the manifold intricacies of the newspaper. I know that in the creation and maintenance of its many departments it affords a drastic test of ability, as the word is understood in the sphere of ideals and in the sphere of worldly success. And to me this special edition, its contents ranging the activities of home and of commerce, is vivid illustration that our women possess the capacity of executive business direction, as well as the gentler graces of the sex.

"Every Georgian should exult in this exhibit. For it vindicates that nobility of the woman of the traditional fireside, who reared sweetest memorials to her achieving sisters; and it visits upon us with powerful emphasis the refreshing knowledge that, with no prejudice to gentleness and fragrance, the wife and the mother of our day is equipped for the material tasks of the twentieth century.

JOSEPH M. BROWN,
"Governor."

SELLERS CHOSEN TEMPORARY HEAD

Member of Mercer Faculty Takes Jameson's Place Until Permanent Successor Is Found.

Macon, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The board of trustees of Mercer university late this afternoon elected Judge J. G. McCall, of Quitman, president of the board to succeed Dr. E. C. Dargan, who resigned because if he should retain the presidency of the board he would be unable to surrender his constitutional rights and resign from the prudential committee.

Dr. G. W. Garner, of Macon, was elected secretary of the board, to succeed E. N. Jelks, who resigned for the same reason that Dr. Dargan gave up the presidency.

Both Dr. Dargan and Mr. Jelks retain places as members of the board of trustees but neither are now members of the prudential committee.

Professor J. F. Sellers, a member of the Mercer faculty, was elected temporary president of Mercer, to serve until the successor of Dr. Jameson can be chosen.

Judge McCall, the new president of the board and ex-officio chairman of a committee of five, which will be named by him, to nominate a successor to Dr. Jameson. This committee

"WHITE SLAVERY" FLOURISHED HERE, SAY BURNS MEN

Startling Conditions in Atlanta Revealed in Statement Given Out Wednesday by Marion Jackson.

YOUNG GIRL OFFERED DETECTIVE BY MOTHER

Officers Making Investigation for Men and Religion Find No Evidences of Police Corruption.

In the employ of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, a squad of Burns detectives for an entire month investigated vice conditions in Atlanta in an effort to expose suspected "graft" and corruption in the police department. After thirty days of futile probe they reported that they had been absolutely unable to secure evidence of corrupt practice in any form.

It was revealed, however, that a revolting "white slavery" condition existed in the city, and that out of many transactions they had unearthed, one stood glaringly characteristic, in which a mother had endeavored to barter her 15-year-old daughter to a white slaver for the sum of $25. The offer was made to a Burns detective, posing as a tenderloin cadet.

This revelation was made yesterday by Marion Jackson to a Constitution reporter. Mr. Jackson is president of the executive committee of the religious movement, and has been a dominant figure in its successful reform enterprises. The investigation by the Burns experts was made only a short while previous to the war on the restricted zone made by Chief Beavers.

Chief Not Aware of Probe.

The chief, however, was not aware of the probe. It was made ostensibly for the purpose of exposing probable corruption of the police relative to practice in the tenderloin which was then in existence.

Although Mr. Jackson did not state positively the prime motive for the probe, it is hinted that if bribery were found to be practiced in the districts would have been used as a lever with which to launch a campaign to close the said districts.

During the present grand jury investigation of the police department, Mr. Jackson's revelation is of singular interest. He declares that "white slave" traffic as much as graft did not exist during the days of the tenderloin, it is highly improbable that the city suffers such a condition at this time. Atlanta's department, he says, appears to be as model and moral as that of any metropolis in America. Such also was the expression of Chief Beavers, who told of implicit confidence he placed in his men of all ranks.

Visit Leading Resorts.

When the Burns experts undertook the task of exposing suspected corruption among the police as it related to the prominent saloon and resort operators of the vice district, the leading houses of Manhattan avenue and other "officially regulated" zones were filled with operatives in all manner of guises.

After thirty days' search, during which a daily report were submitted to the Men & Religion executive committee, their investigation was dropped. Not one "peanut graft" was unearthed, Mr. Jackson avers.

Although the suspicion of police corruption was found to have been baseless, the investigation revealed a revolting system of "white slavery" which they alleged was practiced in the resort section and in assignation houses and hotels over the city. Young girls, fresh from the country and rural districts, upon arriving in the city, were watched and trailed by cadets, the experts reported.

Women and girls of the city, made accustomed with cadets, most of whom were handsome and invariably well-dressed, were stripped of virtune under the pretense of love or promise of marriage, and afterward lured into the dens. The factory girl and those from the rural section were the easiest

JACK JOHNSON GIVEN YEAR IN PENITENTIARY

Negro Pugilist Also Fined $1,000 for Violation of the Mann "White Slave" Act.

Chicago, June 4.—Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight champion, today was sentenced to one year and one day in the state penitentiary at Joliet, and fined $1,000 for violation of the Mann "white slave" act.

Sentence was pronounced on Johnson after Federal Judge Carpenter had denied a motion for a new trial. Johnson obtained two weeks' time in which to prepare a writ of error and the bond for his release, which has been at liberty since his conviction was allowed to stand.

Half a dozen deputy United States marshals, who had grouped themselves about Johnson in anticipation of resistance when the prison sentence was given, left the room when Judge Carpenter announced that the prisoner continue temporarily at liberty.

The sentence to the state penitentiary is the result of a recent order from Washington that all persons convicted in the federal court in this district should be sent to the state prison owing to the crowded condition of the federal prison in Leavenworth. Johnson left the courtroom declaring he would not give up his fight for liberty.

"It has been hard to determine what punishment should be meted out in this case," said Judge Carpenter in passing sentence. "We have had many cases where violation of the Mann act have been punished with a fine only. We have had other cases where defendants have been sentenced to one or two years in the penitentiary.

"The circumstances in this case have been aggravating. The life of the defendant, by his own admissions, has not been a moral one. The defendant is one of the best known men of his race and his example has been far reaching.

"The sentence shall be that the defendant shall be confined a year and a day in the Joliet penitentiary and that he shall be fined $1,000."

The court denied a request of counsel for Johnson that the negro be allowed to serve the term in the city bridewell, instead of the state's prison.

Johnson was convicted May 10 of having paid for the transportation of Belle Schreiber from Pittsburg to Chicago.

CASTRO IN FLORIDA, DECLARES VENEZUELAN

Key West, Fla., June 4.—United States immigration officials are tonight investigating a rumor that Cypriano Castro came here yesterday from Havana in the guise of a Cuban merchant. A resident of the Latin colony, who claims to know the former president of Venezuela well, said tonight that he believed the man who registered at a local hotel was Castro. The man supposed to be Castro has disappeared.

EX-AMBASSADOR'S WIFE CHARGED WITH KILLING

Bridgeport, Conn., June 4.—Charged with homicide, Mrs. J. L. Woodford, wife of the former United States ambassador to Spain, was arrested today and placed under $2,000 bonds, because the shooting she was alleged to drive ran down and killed William Stanhouser, a laborer, in Fairfield, near here. Mrs. Woodford and her chauffeur were both arrested.

BOY TIED TO HORSE IS HORRIBLY MANGLED

Huntsville, Ala., June 4.—(Special.) News reached here last night of an unusual accident that may result in the death of a small son of Mr. and Mrs. George Powers, at New Market. The boy and one or two others were playing with a horse that they were unable to hold, so they conceived the idea of tying the animal to the Powers boy. The horse took fright then, and ran through a thicket and a fence, mangling the Powers boy in a frightful manner.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT BIG EDITION

Paper Is Largest Ever Issued in Georgia, and One of Largest in South.

For a band of uninitiated women to report, edit and publish an issue of a big daily newspaper is an unprecedented achievement, but when this end has not only been successfully accomplished, but augmented by astonishing proportions, as were those of the Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution, which was issued yesterday, it taxes even the most vivid conception. Here are some of the startling facts about the edition of The Atlanta Constitution, which the women of Atlanta and Georgia issued:

The paper was 126 pages in size, the largest single issue of a newspaper, according to all available records, ever issued in Georgia, and one of the largest ever issued in the south.

The circulation was 60,000 copies, practically all of it sold and paid for in advance of publication.

Each copy weighed a little less than 2 pounds, and contained approximately 5 cents worth of white paper.

One hundred and ten thousand pounds of paper, more than two car loads, were consumed.

If all the pages of all the copies printed were placed end to end, it would make a ribbon of paper approximately 4,000 miles in length, reaching one-sixth around the earth, or 500 miles more than from New York to San Francisco.

It would make a sheet of paper 41 feet in width across the entire state of Georgia from east to west.

If all the papers were in one pile, it would be 4,500 feet, in height, more than four times as high as any building or spire in Atlanta.

If all the pages were in solid 6 point type (the same size as the ordinary reading matter) it would amount to 4,008,230 ems or approximately 7,000,000 type characters.

If all the pages were in solid reading matter type, it would contain 1,121,320 words.

The edition contained 1,213 individual advertisements.

The total space occupied by advertisements was 2,555 inches or 355 columns.

CANTRELL BOYS HELD FOR HAWKINS' MURDER

Lula, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury met again yesterday and was in session the entire day and up to a late hour on the Arthur Hawkins murder case.

The jury found that Hawkins came to his death from a gunshot wound in the hands of Bartow Cantrell, and that James Cantrell, a brother to Bartow, and a man named Miller, were accessories before and after the murder.

Hawkins' wife was placed under a $500 bond for her appearance at court.

It is stated that she told that she hid the gun that Cantrell killed her husband with, and told where it could be found.

It has been learned that the two Cantrell boys confessed to the sheriff late last night that they were responsible for Hawkins' death, that Bartow killed him and that James loaded the shell with slugs.

CEDARTOWN LAD KILLED WHILE STEALING RIDE

Somerset, Ky., June 4.—(Special.)—Joe Faulkner, of Cedartown, Ga., died in a local hospital yesterday afternoon from injuries he received at Stearns, while attempting to steal a ride on one of the fast freight trains on the Queen and Crescent road. Faulkner's right leg was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated. He died four hours later

Elkins, W. Va., June 4.—Henry Gassaway Davis, democratic vice presidential candidate in 1904, was painfully but not seriously injured today when he was thrown from his horse after the animal had been bitten by a dog.

ATLANTA IS PAINTED AS AN IMMORAL CITY

Philadelphia Ministers Are Told Gate City Is Worse Than Frisco.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4.—(Special.)—The Rev. S. Lane Batten, the chairman of the social service commission of the Baptist church in this city, yesterday addressed a meeting of the ministers of that denomination in Crozer hall. The ministers were devising ways and means to prevent a recurrence of the social evil so that the vice quarantine in this city can become permanent.

Dr. Batten said, in enumerating some of the conditions which he had found in other cities:

"While I was in Atlanta three weeks ago I had a splendid opportunity to investigate conditions there. While they have eliminated the 'red-light district' completely, they have not stopped solicitation upon the streets, and some of the women of the city are more corrupt than any I have ever seen."

"With Dr. Baley, of this city, we decided to take a walk down one of the city's prominent thoroughfares. I took one side of the street and he the other. I was solicited for immoral purposes nineteen times, and my brother minister twenty-one times, each by different women. Three whom we talked to told us they could take us to places that were not suppressed, and from the descriptions they gave us, and from their proposals, can safely say that San Francisco, in her worse days, was no worse than the great Georgia city."

prey, it was reported, and the percentage of this class that fell into the scarlet life was alarming.

The mother is a well-known figure to police circles. She recently was sent by Recorder Broyles for thirty days in the stockade for operating a house of ill-fame. She dangingly offered her child, a pretty girl who had just returned from serving a sentence in the Home of the Good Shepherd in Cincinnati, to the Burns man for the sum of $25. This attempted deal was reported to the executive committee, and is now a matter of record.

In commenting on the Philadelphia story in which a Baptist minister of that city publicly charges that conditions in Atlanta are worse than those of San Francisco during its "palmiest days, Mr. Jackson says that it was not the first time he had heard the preacher's statement to the effect that in a single night in the Gate City he had been solicited by as many as nineteen girls.

To refute the minister's story, Mr. Jackson says that when it first gained circulation, he and Chief J. Eagan, of the executive committee, and E. A. Best, editor of The Continent, a periodical which had carried an article commenting on the vice situation in Atlanta, walked the streets of the city Saturday night a week ago in an effort to encounter "girls of the pavement."

No Girl Approached.

"We walked down Peachtree street, Decatur, Ivy and a number of other streets, including 'Whitehall,' stated Mr. Jackson. "We did not see a girl or woman who even looked suspicious much less accosted us. It was Saturday night, too, and surely if 'scarlet women' infested our streets at the Philadelphia preacher declares they do, they would have been out in full force that night."

He stated further that after a night's treading the streets, he and Mr. Eagan went home, leaving the editor at his hotel, the Piedmont. Mr. Best, after writing for an hour or so in his room, returned to the streets, thinking that he would be able to encounter "girls of the pavement" at the midnight hour. Although he walked up and down most all of the downtown side streets he abandoned his futile search in an hour.

FEARFUL CASE OF PILES CURED

Suffered Intensely, Resinol Brought Instant Relief.

The same soothing, healing antiseptic medicinal virtue that makes Resinol so remarkably successful for skin troubles affords immediate relief in the most distressing cases of itching, painful and bleeding piles. Miss Mazie Russell, 1254 N. Gay St. Baltimore, writes:

April 24, 1913.—"I had a most severe case of piles. I suffered day and night. I could not sleep or even lie down, and everyone told me the only relief for me would be an operation, and that I dreaded. I was almost wild with pain. I read of Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment and sent for samples. The first application gave me instant relief. After using only two jars of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, I can truthfully say that Resinol completely cured me.

"I hope all other poor sufferers will read of Resinol as I know it will help them as it did me, for I can never say enough in praise of it—for it does more than is ever claimed for it."—(Signed) Mazie Russell.

Better proof, even than such a letter, is to try Resinol yourself and see how quickly the trouble disappears. For free trial write to Dept. 16-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are sold by all druggists.

Georgia Women Jubilant Over Success of Edition

The federated women of Georgia are most happy over the success of the Woman's Edition of The Constitution, published yesterday.

Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, president, arrived on a belated train at noon from Thomasville, and was radiant over the success of the edition.

"I feel," said she, "that nothing in all the splendidly useful life of the federation has ever carried the unifying force of the work for this edition. The force of the work as this edition of the state have been brought forward and developed by it and by its light we see many of the strong new leaders which every organized movement must continue to produce. The Ella P. White edition is, to my somewhat prejudiced mind, a wonderfully satisfactory product and one which is worthy of the name it bears and the work it will promote."

Mrs. Willet Talks.

"The Woman's Edition demonstrated the talents of the women of Georgia, as well as their beautiful spirit of cooperation," said Mrs. Hugh Willet, ex-president of the federation, and a member of the endowment committee. "There was brought out also in the edition the fact that while the club women do wonderful work in philanthropy, education and social service, they by no means neglect the cultural side, and encourage especially the development of literature and the arts."

Surprised Themselves.

"Much as we had all expected of the Ella P. White Edition, I venture to say that its finished product was one of the joyous surprises of every perpetrator's life," said Mrs. Ottley. "Good as the paper is, it is not half so remarkable as is the work that brought it into being; and the most marked characteristic of this work was its composite nature.

"Those who have been for four months close to the grind of the thing know that the whole enterprise has been from the very beginning like a wonderful piece of machinery, from which, at any time, if any single bit of individual effort (and there were hundreds of such) had fallen short, the whole thing would have reeled and cracked. But nobody did fail; every woman did even more than she was asked and that is why all the women in Atlanta and in Georgia are so happy today."

Joy Meeting Held in Tifton.

While the Atlanta women met to rejoice over the success of The Woman's Edition, enthusiastic club women everywhere were celebrating with them. From Mrs. H. H. Tift, of Tifton, Ga., chairman of the endowment committee, of the Georgia Federation, Mrs J. Lindsay Johnson received the following wire:

"Wish cannot bear swiftly enough my congratulations and songs of praise to the faithful women who have made the edition a perfect success. Twentieth Century Library club will hold a joy meeting this afternoon."

A Word From Albany.

Representing the federated club women of Albany who have done an excellent work for The Woman's Edition, Mrs. Emma W. Menke wired: "Congratulations to Atlanta club women. Paper splendid. Hurrah for Georgia Federation."

The message of Mrs. Nicholas Peterson, district president editor, who has rendered invaluable service to The Woman's Edition, addressed her message to The Woman's Edition, as follows: "Thanks to Constitution, entire staff and faithful service of Atlanta women to whom so much credit is due. Long live the Federation, Atlanta and The Constitution."

Mrs Henry Woodyard, of LaGrange, wired regrets at not being in Atlanta, and congratulations on success of edition.

Macon's Congratulations.

Mrs. Robert L. Berner, representing the Federated Club women of Macon, wired: "Deeply regret I can't be with you and rejoice with you in the great success of the edition. Congratulations to my sister club women and to The Constitution."

"Hurrah for Woman's Edition. Sorry I cannot be with you," was the message wired by Mrs. H. L. Green, of Athens. Mrs. Katherin Logan, of Acworth, wired: "My hearty congratulations and regrets I cannot be with you to celebrate."

Mrs. J. C. Brewer, of Douglas, Ga., wired congratulations.

From Athens came this telegram:

"Editor Special Edition: Hurrah for the club women's paper. Sorry I can't be with you. Wishing The Constitution all success.

"HOPE LINTON GREEN,
"President Athens Woman's Club."

Atlanta Women Happy.

The Atlanta club women were most happy in the success of the edition, and those who did not call at the office and assembly room to express their appreciation sent messages of fraternal greeting and interest. Of these no one received a more affectionate appreciation than that from Mrs. E. G. McCabe, which read:

"Congratulations to the survivors of the publication of The Woman's Edition. The work is a noble success."

Woman's Edition is to be super-congratulated."

M. L. Brittain.

"It was a pleasure to see the beautiful editorial staff of The Constitution today. The ladies in charge certainly covered themselves with glory and proved that men are not the only ones who can get out a good newspaper."

Judge Joseph H. Lumpkin.

"The Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution surpasses anything of its nature that I have ever seen. It was a wonderful paper. The ladies who edited the edition displayed great ability, taste and tact."

Judge Beverly D. Evans.

"I found the Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution to be one of the most interesting publications I have ever seen. The matter published in its columns was well selected and well treated. The ladies brought out in this edition a great deal of interesting information that none other than the women could have compiled and placed before the public in the proper light. In its mechanical features it was a work of art."

Game Warden Jesse Mercer.

"When I saw the Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution this morning I was most astonished at the size of it, but when I had begun to read it found myself still more astonished at the fine grade of matter printed in its columns. While I have not yet had time to read it all, I think that it is one of the most interesting issues of any newspaper I have ever seen. It is a great paper!"

Secretary of State Phil Cook.

"The Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution was an ordinary newspaper, be glanced through hurriedly and have made an intelligent answer as per for it is a very extraordinary edition and contains a mass of interesting facts that are worth pondering over and will be read and re-read in its columns. While I have not yet had time to read it all, I think that it is one of the most interesting issues of any newspaper I have ever seen. It is a great paper!"

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash.

"For any one to have attempted the publication in one day of so large a paper as the Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution was a gigantic undertaking, but for this enterprise to have been undertaken by women absolutely unacquainted with newspaper work and to have been made the perfect thing they made of it is wonderful. It is an extremely interesting and valuable volume. The ladies are to be congratulated."

O. C. Fuller.

"It would be rather presumptuous to criticize a novel before you have read it. I am inclined to think the publication is a complete success. So far it is only a casual observation. I have given the issue apart from the news pages. In that casual reading, however, I have been attracted by a number of features that make time to read. I must say, however, that the paper shows conclusively and beyond all question of doubt what the women of the grand old state of Georgia can do when they have decided to get busy."

John Dean Steward.

"Never before have I seen a daily paper carrying as many pages as The Atlanta Constitution issued this morning. No I have not read it, but its general appearance make me as anxious to read it as the announcement of a new novel by any favorite author. Glancing over the pages I see the names of writers who have always been attractive, and at my leisure I will read what they have written for the biggest paper I have ever—a paper carrying more words than the ordinary novel."

Chief James Beavers.

"The Woman's Edition is a characteristic result of the spirit of Atlanta's women. It is great. The women behind it are to be commended for their snap and pluck and every other good quality that typified their efforts. It was a wonder, that edition was, and Atlanta should feel forever proud of its women who issued it."

Judge Nash Broyles.

"It was monumental to the enterprise and industry of Atlanta's women." Although I expected a great achievement I was dumbfounded when I saw what a tip-roaring success it had made of it. When it comes to energy and vigor and the getting of results, there's nothing that can compare with Atlanta's women. I don't need further support in that statement—The Constitution's Woman's Edition is proof undisputable. It proves it beyond a doubt."

LAWYERS WILL SPEAK FOR A MEDAL TONIGHT

Seniors of the Atlanta Law school will hold their final meeting today at 4 o'clock, at which time the successful candidates for graduation will be announced. A feature of the meeting will be the report of the committee in charge of all final arrangements for commencement R. H. Lindsay, chairman; J. J. Slaton and W. E. Morgan comprise this committee, at which time all candidates for a degree to attend the meeting this afternoon.

The faculty prize in declamation will be awarded to the best declaimer at 8 o'clock this evening at the law school. The speakers follow: Robert E. Lee Cone, Samuel M. Cooper, George Northen, M. J. Woods, Pierce Burns, Harry Terrell, Allen A. Dowda, Richard H. Gordon, William H. Hassell.

Leonard Grossman, who was entered in the contest, but withdrew because of his victory in the debate Monday night, was elected by the contestants to preside over the competition for the faculty prize. The judges will be Judge John S. Candler, Judge John T. Pendleton and M. L. Brittain.

Miss Douglas Better.

The many friends of Miss Helen Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, will be glad to learn that she is convalescing after a very serious operation for appendicitis. Though her case aroused the grave concern of attending physicians, because the appendix had become badly dislocated before the operation, her resisting powers have encouraged those who are in constant attendance upon her. She is still weak from the effects of the operation, which was performed last Monday, but is gradually improving.

May Adopt Rome Plan.

Macon, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—Representatives of all of the Protestant churches of the city will meet tomorrow night for the purpose of discussing the adoption of the "Rome plan" of closing the lockers clubs in Macon. This was suggested last Sunday in an address by Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Rome, who contended that every locker club in the city is being operated illegally and can be closed by securing injunctions against them.

Atlanta Greatly Pleased Over Woman's Edition

Everybody in Atlanta was delighted with the Woman's Edition of The Constitution, published yesterday, and from all parts of the city have come nothing but congratulations and words of commendation for the women who worked so hard and faithfully to get out this wonderful edition and accomplished their object in such an admirable manner.

Mayor James G. Woodward.

Here are some of the things the leading people of the city have had to say about the paper.

"A journalistic triumph."

"That is my honest opinion of The Constitution's Woman's Edition, and I speak as an old newspaper man—perhaps the oldest in Atlanta.

"I was greatly surprised when I read through the columns. Every article and news item fairly throbbed with color and interest. In fact, I found so much of interest that I sincerely believe I will be several weeks reading it all.

"The Constitution has been the means, through its enterprise in getting out this issue, of bringing woman's sphere of work closer to the readers of newspapers. I would like to see a copy of the edition in every home in Georgia. Surely, there is no better chronicle of history which women of Atlanta are making.

"I am going to have a copy of the edition in my right-hand drawer at city hall, and will have several copies at my home.

"The ladies who made the edition the success it is have done a great work for Atlanta and Georgia."

Alfred C. Newell.

"The Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution is noteworthy.

"From the standpoint of sentiment it is a wonderful tribute to the late Mrs. Harry White. From the technical viewpoint it far surpasses the average special edition.

"I was in the newspaper business something like thirteen years. For uniqueness, the most remarkable special edition I ever saw was when Sir Alfred Harmsworth—now Lord Northcliff—came over to this country and issued his tabloid edition of the New York World. As every old newspaper man knows, however, the average special edition is simply a lot of junk sufficient to fill in and carry the advertising matter.

"In feature discrimination; in human interest appeal; in getting hold of real live situations, the editors of the Woman's Edition have shown that they could serve up real stuff instead of fluh-dub.

"The southern temperament, responsive temperament, is particularly susceptible to successful journalistic work, and the opportunity given by The Constitution to its host of female contributors for this special edition, will lead to the development, doubtless, of a lot of talent hitherto unknown.

"The permanent editorial staff of The Constitution is to be congratulated and the editorial organization for the Success of Woman's Edition Celebrated by a Reception

The assembly room of The Constitution office, which has been used by the women of the Georgia Federation during the work preceding the publication of their edition of the paper, threw off yesterday the atmosphere of work and presented a picture of happy celebration and entertainment. The management of The Constitution were the hosts of the occasion, and the endowment committee of the Georgia Federation and the staff of The Woman's Edition received the guests. Mrs. F. J. Spratling, chairman of the reception committee, appointed by Mrs. Lindsay Johnson, acted as official hostess.

No invitations had been issued except the general invitation issued to all workers and friends of the enterprise, this word extended through the columns of the paper. Among the first visitors were a group of out-of-town workers who came to celebrate with their Atlanta sisters. Mrs. Robert Daniel, of Griffin, chairman of the sixth district, came to bring greetings and congratulations from the club women and that section. Mrs. A. O. Granger came from Cartersville, bearing Mrs. Willet were the recipients of telegrams from many prominent club women, who could not be present.

Mrs. Hamilton brought greetings from the club women of Decatur and messages of congratulation came from College Park.

A Happy Surprise.

A happy incident was the arrival of Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, president of the Georgia Federation and publisher of The Women's Edition. She was warmly cheered on her arrival and was most happy in her response, assuring the Atlanta committee of the heartfelt appreciation for the work they had put in the edition, distance keeping the state women from doing all they would have done had it been possible. In turn, she was congratulated for the splendid work done by the women of the section under her inspiring leadership.

The Federation colors of white and green were expressed in the decorations of the room, which had palms banked against the walls and white flowers everywhere.

From a table etched in smilax and centered with a bowl of snowballs, dainty sandwiches were served from the little letter trays so familiar to the newspaper office, these decorated in bows of green and white and smilax.

A delicious punch was served and around the table the ladies read with delight telegrams from the leading men and women of the state congratulating them on the success of the edition.

R. E. LEE INSTITUTE CLOSING EXERCISES

Thomaston, Ga., June 4.—(Special.) R. E. Lee institute has closed the most successful year in its history. The commencement exercises were brought to a close Tuesday evening by the graduating exercises. The commencement sermon was preached by Rev. J. S. Jenkins, of Atlanta, and was a strong discourse on missions. Monday morning Miss C. S. Parrish delivered her lecture on "Changing Ideals." She is an advanced thinker and handled her subject well, making a lasting impression on her audience. Tuesday morning Colonel E. P. Davis, of Warrenton, delivered one of the most eloquent addresses ever heard in Thomaston.

Men DO Read Advertisements.

There has been some lively discussion on this subject lately and at a dinner of advertising men in one of the larger cities recently a prominent advertiser rose and asserted that "after all, very few men read advertisements."

"You are absolutely wrong," retorted another advertising man, the manager of advertising in a department store. "We had a sale of shirts one day last week that was the most successful in the history of our business. Ninety-nine per cent of those who came in and bought were men. They came in direct response to our newspaper advertisement."

Everywhere in every station of life men find interest in advertising. It may not be clothing, shoes or hats; but it may be something that relates to real estate, banking, the stock market, to automobiles—to any of the thousand and one things that constantly form the subject of wideawake advertising.

FRANK WANTED GUN TO TAKE HIS LIFE, SAYS NEGRO COOK

Sensational Affidavit Made for the Police by Minola McKnight, Servant in Leo Frank's Home.

Fully as startling as the recent confession of James Conley, an affidavit purporting to have been sworn to by Minola McKnight, the servant girl of the Frank household, was given out to the newspapers yesterday afternoon by Chief Lanford. The detectives assert it is the "final straw" in the mass of evidence they boast of having accumulated.

Attesting to a statement that Frank was nervous and excited on the tragedy night, the negress swears Mrs. Frank told of having to sleep on a rug in the bedroom and of her suspicion that her husband was drunk. The servant girl also declares that Mrs. Frank had stated that Frank asked for a gun with which to kill himself, and that he asked: "Why could I be guilty of murder?"

The affidavit further states that Frank arrived home on the crime date about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and, without eating dinner, left within less than ten minutes. He returned at 7 o'clock at night, the negress swears. Also, she declares that her name was attached to the document of her own free will and accord, and that she was not threatened or persuaded in any form.

Stands Sponsor for Woman.

She was released from prison on an agreement between her counsel, George Gordon, and Chief Lanford. Gordon offered to produce her at the trial, the detective chief declares, if she would be given freedom, and would stand sponsor for her presence. As long as she reports daily to police headquarters and shows no inclination to leave, Lanford says, she will not be molested. Otherwise, she will be returned to prison and held until the courts take up the case.

Attorney William M. Smith, counsel for James Conley, the negro sweeper, was asked Wednesday afternoon if he had formulated the line of defense to be presented by his client in case Conley was accused by Frank's defense of the murder, as is the present outlook. He answered:

"Conley will need no defense. By the time he is accused, if he is, Frank will have been convicted of the crime."

It was announced from Solicitor Dorsey's office Wednesday that the Phagan case will go before the courts during the week of June 30 instead of the 23d, as has been predicted. No definite decision has been reached, however. It is understood that Dorsey will be ready for the prosecution at the later date, and that unless there are reasons for delay on the part of the defense, the case will proceed expeditiously.

The servant girl's affidavit follows in full:

State of Georgia, County of Fulton: Personally appeared before me, a notary public in and for the above state and county, Minola McKnight, who lives in the rear of 351 Pulliam street, Atlanta, Ga., who, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

Saturday morning, April 26, 1913, Mr. Frank left home about 8 o'clock, and Albert, my husband, was there Saturday, too; Albert got there, I guess, about a quarter after 1, an was there when Mr. Frank come for dinner, which was about half-past one, but Mr. Frank did not eat any dinner and he left in about ten minutes after he got there.

Mr. Frank came back to the house at 7 o'clock that night, and Albert was there when he got there. Albert had gone home that evening, but he come back, but I don't know what time he got there, but he come some time before Mr. Frank did. Mr. Frank did eat supper that night about 7 o'clock, and when I left about 8 o'clock I left Mr. Frank there.

Sunday morning I got there about 8 o'clock, and there was an automobile standing in front of the house, but I didn't pay any attention to it, but I saw a man in the automobile get a bucket of water and pour into it. Miss Lucile (Mr. Frank's wife), was downstairs, and Mr. and Mrs. Selig were upstairs. Albert was there Sunday morning, but I don't remember what time he got there. I called them down to breakfast about half-past eight I found that Mr. Frank was gone. Mr. and Mrs. Selig eat breakfast and Miss Lucile didn't eat until Mr. Frank come back and they eat breakfast together. I didn't hear them say anything at the breakfast table, but after dinner I understood them to say that a girl and Mr Frank were caught at the office Saturday.

I don't know who said it, but Miss Lucile and Mr. and Mrs. Selig and Mr. Frank were standing there talking after dinner. I didn't know the girl was killed until Monday evening. I understood them to say it was a Jew girl, and I asked Miss Lucile, and she said it was a Gentile.

Frank Said It Was Bad.

On Tuesday Mr. Frank says to me: "It is mighty bad, Minola. I might have to go to jail about this girl, and I don't know anything about it."

I heard Mrs. Rauschenbach, Frank's sister, tell Miss Lucile that it was mighty bad, and Miss Lucile said, "Yes, it is. I am going to get after her about it." I don't know what they were talking about.

Sunday Miss Lucile said to Mrs. Selig that Mr. Frank didn't sleep so good Saturday night. She said he was drunk and wouldn't let her sleep with him, and she said she slept on the floor on the rug by the bed because he was drinking. Miss Lucile said Sunday that Mr. Frank told her Saturday night that he was in trouble; that he didn't know the reason why he would murder, and he told his wife to get his pistol and let him kill himself. I heard Miss Lucile say that to Mrs. Selig. It got away with Mrs. Selig mighty bad; she didn't know what to think. I haven't heard Miss Lucile say whether she believed it or not. I don't know why Mrs. Frank didn't come to see her husband, but it was a pretty good while before she come to see him, maybe two weeks. She would tell me, "Wasn't it mighty bad that he was locked up?" and she said, "Minola, I don't know what I am going to do."

Told Her to Mind.

When I left home to go to the solicitor general's office, they told me to mind what I said. They paid me $3.50 a week, but last week she paid me $4, and one week she paid me $6.50. But at the time of this murder I was getting $3.50 a week, and the week right after the murder I don't remember how much they paid me. The next week $4, and the next week $4. One week Mrs. Selig gave me $5, but it was not for my work, and they didn't tell what it was for. They just said, "Here is $5, Minola," but of course I understood what they meant, but they didn't tell me anything at the time. I understood it was a tip for me to keep quiet. They would tell me to mind how I talked, and Miss Lucile would give me a hat.

Question: "Was that the reason you didn't tell the solicitor yesterday all about this—that Miss Lucile and the others had told you not to say anything about what had happened out there?"

"Yes, sir."

Question: "Is that true?"

"Yes, sir."

Question: "And that is the reason why you would rather have been locked up last night than tell this?"

"Yes, sir."

Question: "Has Mr. Pickett or Mr. Cravens, or Mr. Campbell, or myself (Detective Starnes, evidently), influenced you in any way or threatened you in any way to make this statement?"

"No, sir."

Question: "You make it of your own free will and accord, in their presence and the presence of Mr. Gordon, your attorney?"

"Yes, sir."

GEORGIA HOTEL MEN WILL MEET AT TYBEE

Atlanta members of the Georgia Hotel Men's association are making reservations at the New Tybee hotel, Tybee Island, Ga., for June 13 and 14, when they will attend the annual meeting of that body. The chief business scheduled for the consideration of the hotel men will concern legislative matters in which they are all interested.

Those who will attend the state convention will leave in a body over the Central of Georgia on 9:25 o'clock on the night of June 12, and will be joined by the Macon delegation as they pass through that city, en route to Savannah, where they will be the guests of S. J. Newcomb, manager of the Savannah hotel, who will entertain with a luncheon and an automobile ride. A lively business session followed by a dip in the surf and good times galore are in store for those who will attend the meeting.

Stewards to Have Picnic.

The Atlanta branch of the International Stewards' association will hold their annual picnic Thursday, June 12, at the Burns club, and the members and their guests are anticipating a pleasant outing. The party will go out in special trolleys to the Burns club at 2 o'clock, returning at 6, and in addition to the thirty-six members of the association, with their wives, they have also invited the produce dealers and commission and supply men of the city. The stewards and managers of practically every hotel and restaurant in Atlanta are active members of this association. Luke Kohler, of the Transportation club, is president, and L. Dupin, of Durand's restaurant, is secretary. Special invitations for the picnic are being distributed.

TECH COMMENCEMENT BEGINS NEXT FRIDAY

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Growing Institution Will Be Celebrated Then.

Tech commencement of 1913, which begins next Friday, will see the finish of twenty-five years of the institution's life. The growth of the school in the last quarter of a century has been phenomenal.

During the eight years that Dr. Matheson has been president of the school, it has grown and improved in every way with wonderful rapidity.

The campus today comprises twenty-five acres, with fifteen buildings, aggregating a total valuation of approximately $800,000. The faculty has been greatly increased; the standard of the courses of instruction has been raised, and numerous other improvement along all lines connected with the institution have been made.

Opens Friday Night.

The commencement exercises will open next Friday night at 8:15 o'clock in the Tech Y. M. C. A. auditorium, with a debate by the Henry W. Grady Literary society. The freshmen's oratorical contest will take place on the following day in the same building.

Dr. Thomas E. Green, of Chicago, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in St. Luke's Episcopal church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, June 8, taking as the subject of his discourse "A Veiled Vision."

At 10 o'clock Monday, June 9, there will be a meeting of the school trustees. At 3 p. m., in the Tech Y. M. C. A., Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, will deliver a literary address. From 4 to 7 p. m. to 7 p. m., President K. G. Matheson will hold a reception. At 8 p. m. one of the features of the commencement, the junior prom, will be held on the campus.

Founders' Day.

Thursday, June 10, is "Founders' day." At 9 a. m. there will be a meeting of the alumni in the Tech Y. M. C. A. auditorium. At 10:30 Founders' day exercises are scheduled in the auditorium: at 3:30 Class day exercises and pageant on the campus; at 8:15 C. Alphonso Smith, Ph. D., LL., will deliver the Founders' day oration in the Grand Opera house; at 9:30 p. m., there will be a reception by Governor and Mrs. Joseph M. Brown at the mansion.

Wednesday, June 11, the boys will be given a chance to show what they have accomplished. From 8:30 to 10 a. m. a shop exhibit will be held. At 10:30 graduating exercises will be held in the Grand Opera house. Dr. Herbert S. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, as commencement orator, will deliver an address on "Old Institutions and New Ideas." At 1:30 delegates, trustees, faculty, alumni and graduation class will attend the chamber of commerce luncheon.

Luncheon Will Be Given.

A luncheon in honor of the distinguished graduates, trustees and the faculty of the Georgia School of Technology will be given at the Capital City club Wednesday, June 11, at 1:30 o'clock, by the Atlanta chamber of commerce.

In giving this luncheon the chamber will show the high regard in which this college is held by the citizens of Atlanta, and wish to fittingly recognize its twenty-fifth anniversary, which will be on that date.

It is hoped that every member of the chamber who can be present will do so, as a fitting tribute to the work of the school. Plates will be $3 each, and it is hoped that those attending will send in their checks immediately to Thomas D. MacIor, treasurer.

The committee on arrangements is as follows: Mell R. Wilkinson, chairman; John W. Grant, J. B. McCravy, Joel Hunter, A. R. Colcord, George M. Howe, W. T. Winn, Samuel A. Carter, Wilmer L. Moore, Robert Greer, V. H. Kriegshaber, Paul Norcross, St. Elmo Massengale, David W. Seward, J. S. Floyd, W. P. Walthall, F. J. Paxon, F. M. Inman, W. W. Orr, S. B. Turman, J. T. Holleman, H. M. Willet, E. C. Konz.

THE SENATE'S VAUDEVILLE.

However praiseworthy the purpose, the inevitable effect of the senate's tariff probe of itself is to cast each one of its members under the suspicion of being a crook at the expense of his country's welfare. That is the inescapable inference from the present inquiry that is aimed at inquisitorially searching to find if any senator has the slightest money interest in any one of the tariff schedules; the source of his income and his far and near relations with anyone else admitting to an interest in a tariff schedule.

The tariff affects every part and parcel of the economic, industrial, commercial and social scheme in this country. Every one of the hundreds of manufactured items, ranging from a needle to a road roller, is affected by some one schedule. Every farmer, whether he sells an egg or a thoroughbred stallion, or grows a blade of grass, a turnip or a bale of cotton, has a money interest in tariff schedules. So far as that is concerned you can push tariff interest down to the shoulders of the infant in the cradle. And yet, pursuing this reduction ad absurdum, the senate proceeds to impale and pump each one of its members as to their "interest" in the pending schedules. Verily, if this thing keeps up, only lawyers will be eligible to the senate, and lawyers without clients, at that; either they or archangels or paupers, who could conceivably have no interest in a tariff schedule.

Such is the ridiculous cul de sac into which the senate has deliberately led itself. Hereafter, we assume, and the assumption is a logical one, investment in legitimate enterprises is to disqualify men for legislative service. The slightest evidences of success, thrift or prosperity are to be taken as grounds for suspicion of ulterior character. The heresy hunters of the old days were bewildering and exasperating enough. The graft-smellers of the present day are infinitely more tiresome and destructive; the public wearies of them. The senate's capers are about as productive and nonsensical as the militant-era that preceded "reform" in Georgia some years ago. The state rang with sinister indictments of prominent men, dead and living. It was alleged the "interests" had Georgia by the throat; that they infested the legislature and twisted statesmen round their fingers. Once the "reformers" got in, these gentry were to be scourged from the holy of holies. The state was to be redeemed from the plunderbund. The "reformers" got in. Not a thing changed. There was not a scintilla of exposure of graft, or loot, or lobbying, as had been promised on a hundred stumps.

That, as we see it, is going to be the chief menace and asset of the senate's present method of attacking the tariff lobby. It is not going to quell any insidious or sinister interest. It is simply going to put a brand on representatives of legitimate industry, making legitimate statements of their interest in tariff legislation. And it threatens to establish the fool precedent that every representative of the people is iniquitous until he is proved guiltless.

It is a pity some more practical and less sinuous way of insuring the party's program could not have been chosen, and especially is it a pity that the senate has set about to prove that it is not made up of an aggregation of crooks. The senate discredits itself by the manner of its inquiry.

A FAKE WITH NINE LIVES.

Will Georgia never outlive the Ollie Taylor fake? Here is our good and usually judicious friend, Collier's Weekly, floundering at this late date in the mire, even less excusably than the jovial Life, of New York. For a month the truth about this miserable canard has been shouted to the nation. Yet Collier's, in its current issue, editorializes with its cool and characteristic finality as follows:

> Under the law of Georgia, Ollie Taylor stands committed to an industrial school until he shall have arrived at the age of twenty-one. He has already served three years. (Jack Rose, the reformed New York gambler, insists that his life was wrecked by the bad training, evil influences and incorrigible companions of a reformatory.) The father of the boy recently attempted to secure his release by a writ of habeas corpus, but the supreme court of Georgia held that it had no power under the law to discharge him. The press of Georgia, especially The Atlanta Constitution, has stood by the courts, insisting that the boy of ten was a hardened and incorrigible rascal when he was committed to the reformatory and resenting any discussion of the question as being sentimental.

Were not our knowledge of Collier's so thorough we should be inclined to fear it had fallen into the too common habit of ostracising facts. We hate to vex the ear of Georgia and the nation with the repetition of a tale, told not twice, but many times. If the misrepresentation appeared in any quarter less prominent we should give it merely the charity of silence.

Once and for all—Ollie Taylor was not sentenced to a reformatory until he should have reached his majority. Under one of the most beneficent laws in this or any other state he was given an indeterminate sentence. The theft of a bottle of soda water was merely the culmination of a long series of overt acts. Under the terms of his sentence he can be liberated at any time between today and his twenty-first birthday that he shall demonstrate his freedom from his inevitable criminal bent and his ability to make a good and productive citizen. He has not thus far given earnest of that transformation. To have ignored Ollie's shortcoming would have been to practice medieval penology—it would have condemned the boy to proceed neglected through his formative years and to become a first-class criminal; it would have penalized society in Georgia, and it would have placed the state in the attitude of maker of criminals. We don't know about the reformatory to which the suddenly "reformed" Jack Rose points dolefully. We do know that Georgia's reformatory is every year dragging little human derelicts from the breakers of vice and crime, and The Constitution has simply shown that Ollie Taylor's sentence to the reformatory was the best possible thing that could have happened to him.

We are just beginning to catch the full significance of Life's plaint that it is often impossible to overtake the harm done by a fake. We lament that Collier's, usually accurate, should by its oversight in this case weaken the credibility of its efforts in so many other splendid directions.

A WONDERFUL SHOWING.

The parade with which the grocers and butchers and general food supply men of Atlanta purpose inaugurating their weekly half-holiday was one of the most striking in the history of the city. The onlooking thousands were astounded by the ocular demonstration of the number of people engaged in the fundamental industry of feeding Atlanta. The long lines of well-appearing men and the equipment of wagons and motor trucks were impressive indications of the size and importance of the commissariat required to sustain this growing city.

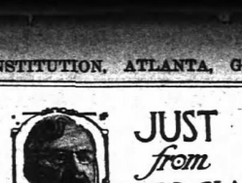
Throughout the afternoon the 7,000 and more employers and employees enjoyed a well-earned rest, all the retail establishments in the city being closed. Each succeeding Wednesday until September 1 these stores will close at noon, that their attaches may enjoy the weekly relaxation which the exigencies of week-end buying prevent them from taking on Saturday with the bulk of Atlanta's population.

The movement which climaxed yesterday is the result of long negotiation and hard work, and all those who so earnestly co-operated for its splendid success deserve credit for effectualizing a movement that means promoting the health, happiness and efficiency of one of the foremost elements in the city's activities.

HITCHCOCK'S "SURPLUS."

Former Postmaster General Hitchcock has come out of the wilds of New Mexico for the express purpose of putting his successor, Mr. Burleson, into the Ananias club. The latter, after scrupulous investigation, told the country what it knew already—that Mr. Hitchcock's postal "surplus" was the product of mathematical jugglery, and that the service from one end of the country to the other was demoralized. Whereupon Mr. Hitchcock remarks that his administration was the most wonderful and achieving in the history of the country.

The answer to Hitchcock's rejoinder is the experience of the business men of the country. It is a matter of record that the administration of the department under Hitchcock was the worst in fifty years rather than the best. Since its induction the democratic administration has been mainly engaged in weeding out the incompetents it inherited and trying to bring something resembling order from chaos. In the south alone the withdrawing of facilities and the insufficiency of clerks from Washington to New Orleans has visited expense and delay upon every business in the section. The Hitchcock theory was that the service should contract with the country's increase in demands rather than expand to meet them. That sophistical principle explains the "surplus" the former postmaster general was able to pile up. The business of the country paid for that surplus. If Mr. Hitchcock wants to boast of an "achievement" won at that expense he is at liberty to do so.



The Goodby Song.

I.

The red stars die in the summer dawn,
The sun strikes fire in the clover,
The hail is dim and the fiddler's gone—
The long-time dance is over!
And a voice rings clear to the listening sky:
"Goodby, my honey, goodby—goodby!"
And the old song's bringin' a sigh—a sigh:
"I'm a-tellin' of my honey goodby!"

II.

Here's where their voices thrilled the hall,
Where the silence now is clinging,
Where the wondrous echoes came to all
Like a million birds a-singing!
Lonesome now are the halls of dawn,
The light of their eyes so far withdrawn:
"The gals are gone! O, the gals are gone!
I'm a-tellin' of my honey goodby!"

Why the Editor Is Absent.

The Editor has found it necessary to make a quick departure from town," says the Billville Banner, "and this scribe can't say for certain just when he is likely to return. As everybody hereabouts knows, he turned the paper over to the suffragettes for one week, and there's where the misguided man lost out. The women gave the mayor of the town Hall Columbia, and the mayor held our innocent Editor responsible for the lambasting; they walloped the high sheriff, and the high sheriff has sworn that he'll never close an eye in sleep until he wallops the Editor; and the three county commissioners, the tax collector and town clerk are all looking for the Editor with axes and shotguns. We suggested that they complain to the women who wrote the articles, but they said not for, if the women gave 'em such a drubbing in print, nothing could save 'em if they got near enough for them to collar them. So they've decided to wreak their vengeance on the head of our guiltless Editor, though it's our opinion that lightning itself can't catch him—at the pace he's going!"

* * * *

The City Farmer.

Just a city farmer, born and raised in town, doing of my best to bring the cost of living down. My Congressman, he sent the seed, and I reckon that is why no stalk of corn is waving its green blades to the sky; I toiled from morn to sunset, I "projicked" all about, but still the seed is sleeping and not one feeble sprout! When next that congressman shall run for office, make this note: He'll lose—and lose forever—this city farmer's vote!

* * * *

Fire Up!

I.

The thirsty sun is drinking
Dew from the lily's cup,
And here's his daily lesson:
"Fire up! Fire up!"

II.

Still that tune he's rasing:
"Keep your flag unfurled;
Rise and shine along the line
The fire that warms a world!"

III.

That's his lesson ever:
"Ye that dine and sup
On the fair fields that feed you:
Fire up! Fire up!"

Where Grape Juice Goes Begging.

"The editor has barrels and barrels of grape juice for which he has no earthly use," says The Adams Enterprise. "He is trying to get Mr. Bryan to take the whole stock off his hands, but if he doesn't sell out to the secretary of state he is going to offer a full gallon jug as a premium to each new subscriber. He's got to get rid of it some way!"

The Life-Word.

Life still is saying
To the growlers grum,
"Time is not delaying,
And the best is to come!"

Frank L. Stanton

The college graduates don't want to "jes' set around and feel good;" they join the ranks of labor, put their shoulders to the wheel and help the world to roll.

A British scientist says clothes should be abolished; but even the bibulous brethren would object to walking about encased in headless barrels.

The Colonel is at his desk again, and the defeat of Editor Newett may form a thrilling chapter of his autobiography.

No vacation for the editor of The Congressional Record; but perhaps he doesn't need any, for he has very little to edit.

When Wall Street isn't growling one may be certain that an extra number of lambs are being shorn.

Seems like a world of realised dreams, with all these beautiful visions of rosy girl graduates.

Just when we thought hostilities had ceased the Army and Navy club at Washington fired six Japanese waiters.

Such fine weather for juleps, and the Colonel takes but one every four months.

Gossip Caught in Corridors Of the National Capitol

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 4.—(Special.)—Short-term enlistments to induce young men to enter the army and secure the training that would make them effective fighters in case of need is being earnestly discussed by army strategists.

Representative Julius Kahn, of California, who favors this method of creating an army *reserve, recently shattered one of the illu*sions of the anti-militarists by this story:

"Some people think an army could spring up in the night and fight its equal in numbers. Congressman Prince, one of the best men in the house, once said to me:

"'You people are unduly disturbed. There is no danger from Japan. Why our people could rise up and sweep them into the sea with brooms.'

"'But they won't fight with brooms,' I said. 'They will come here with guns and a good idea of how to use them.'"

Short-Term Enlistments.

There is no doubt that many young men would enjoy the advantages of a short term in the army, but are deterred by the long enlistment term required. It takes them out of the productive field just at the time when they ought to be getting a start. Shorter enlistment terms would mean more trained soldiers.

Mr. Kahn favors an army reserve; that is, men who have had a short term with the colors, and are then subject to call for a short term of years after returning to their regular work in the industrial world. He would approve an enlistment for one or two years with the colors and three years in the reserves.

"In this way," he said, "we would soon have a splendid lot of young men with a year's military training subject to call during the next three years following the end of their service, and who could be relied upon to respond to a demand for fighting men in an emergency. Besides training soldiers the short term enlistments would check desertions.

"Many young men enlist in the army on account of pique, trouble at home, love affair, or something which disturbs them for the moment. Others enlist for the adventure which they think it will afford, the opportunity to go across the water and see different lands and different people, and the chances it affords to see a different phase of life. After a short time they may regret their action and wish to get out. There is their four-year enlistment period ahead of them with three years in the reserves. It looks like a lifetime to a young man, and he begins to seek a way out by desertion. He changes his name and deserts, and is forever haunted with the fear that he may be caught and sent to prison; his life ruined by a dishonorable act."

Agricultural Science.

Writing to the department of agriculture recently a Kansas farmer said:

"It is a long road with many stumps in it from the days when a man planted his crop by the moon, marked his pig according to the signs of the Zodiac, and whose old lady stirred her soup from east to west with a sassafras stick, gathered her eggs in her apron when she wanted pullets and in the old man's hat when she wanted roosters, to the modern methods of handling live stock and growing corn. Farm demonstration work is making progress and a better day is in sight."

Getting a Government Job.

Although the civil service administration is under fire from the democrats, most government jobs are still under the civil service and will continue to be.

President Wilson has called for an examination of fourth-class postmasters whom President Taft put under the civil service without any examination. This will throw open 47,000 small jobs to be filled on a competitive basis by democrats.

If the movement to take deputy collectors of internal revenue from the protection of the civil service is successful, that will add a few more positions paying from $1,200 to $1,600 a year to the patronage list. In that event these places will be filled by the collectors.

*To secure any government position ex*cept those at the very top, which are awarded as the big political prizes, it is necessary to stand an examination and be placed on the eligible list. Whenever the chief of a bureau needs a new assistant he calls on the civil service commission and three persons are certified to him, from whom to make a selection.

As those at the top of the list secure places, those at the bottom have their opportunity.

No one dares assail the civil service if honestly administered. It means retaining a permanent trained force to carry on the various lines of government work. Employees are thereby protected from their places from the vicissitudes of political changes. So the way to secure and hold a government position is to qualify under the civil service.

Senator Kern Cured at Asheville.

In these dispatces a few days ago I told of the tuberculosis serum invented by Dr. Karl von Ruck, of Asheville, N. C., and the highly favorable report on its efficacy made by Dr. E. R. Stitt, of the Navy Medical school.

Senator Overman has asked for an investigation of the remedy and cited Senator Kern, of Indiana, as a patient who was cured by it.

It seems Senator Kern went to Asheville in 1906, when he had the disease in its incipient stages. He remained there five and a half months and came away cured of his cough and heavier by thirty pounds. Later in the year he engaged in a hard speaking campaign for vice president, speaking daily, but without ill effect.

Dr. Von Ruck's cure differs from the Friedmann cure as widely as his serum differs from those of the Berlin physician. He uses a non-virulent serum which is designed primarily to give immunity. Experiments on animals are now being made by the government with the serum.

"John Sharp" Would Reform Alphabet.

Senator John Sharp Williams is fond of telling the story of how he tried to reform the alphabet.

When he first came to congress the Mississippi statesman was assigned to the committee on education and labor. That committee was not as important then as it is now. In fact, it never had a meeting. How nearly it came to acting favorably on a measure is related below.

"Representative Blank once introduced a simplified spelling bill," said Mr. Williams. "I got hold of it and as it looked to me like a good opportunity to show that our committee was a working committee, I wrote a report on it and took it to the chairman.

"My report showed the need of reforming the alphabet. I said there is the letter 'Q' which means nothing unless in combination with the letter 'U,' which coerces 'U' and me and all of us. It is a combination in restraint of 'U.' Then take 'C,' which sometimes spells 'S' and sometimes 'K,' but has no standing of its own and is masquerading under false colors. Then these is 'X' which is a delusion and a snare. It means nothing and is a patent four-flusher. One never uses 'x's' until he has run out of ideas and is trying to make people believe he hasn't.

"There were a number of other indictments against the alphabet in my report. But it was never published. The chairman frowned on it, and the author of the bill said it made him ridiculous. That was in the days when I didn't have much to do. I couldn't reproduce the report now to save my life. But that was the only time during my connection with the committee it tried to report a bill."

A Defense of the Oyster.

Dr. Carl L. Alsberg, in a recent address, comes to the defense of the oyster. The new chief of the bureau of chemistry thinks the prejudice against the silent bivalve which is unable to say a word in self-defense, is unfair. He says the department of agriculture is going to help the producers of wholesome oysters to increase their business:

"The widespread and growing fear that the oyster is a source of disease and is not a safe food undoubtedly is one of the factors that adds to the pressure of the high cost of living. Because in very rare cases oysters from a bad bed have caused sickness and because in many cases local authorities have sought to escape responsibility for polluted water or milk supply by placing the blame upon wholly innocent and silent oysters. The people more and more are shunning this really valuable food.

"It follows that as people stop eating oysters they eat more meat—possibly more expensive meat. And, the more meat is eaten, the greater the demand and the higher the price.

"As a general proposition, it is fair to state that people run less risk of contracting typhoid fever from oysters than they do from drinking raw milk, or the water supplied in many communities. The great bulk of the oysters sold are wholesome. The number of oyster beds where pollution is even possible is relatively small. I could wish that the number of dangerous sources of milk supply was as small and the percentage of pure wholesome milk as great as the proportion of wholesome, safe oysters that reach our tables. Although I cannot give the oyster an absolutely clean bill of health, I can say that the prejudice against them is out of all proportion.

"Every pound of food taken from the sea relieves the land of producing a corresponding amount of meat and so releases so many acres for the production of grain and fruit. Every pound of food produced on land uses up some of our soil fertility. Sea food is a net gain to the land and, moreover, furnishes fertilizer to the land and directly enriches the soil."

The World's Mysteries

WHO KILLED GENERAL BRADDOCK?

Readers are familiar with the fact that General Edward Braddock, the commander of the British forces in America, was killed near Pittsburg, in July, 1755, in the war against the French and Indians, but history is silent as to by whom. It simply tells us that the general, after having had five horses shot from under him, was himself pierced by a bullet which penetrated his heart. He fell on July 9, lingered until July 13, died at Great Meadows and was buried where he died, Washington reading the burial service over him.

But who killed General Braddock? The story has been told that the deed was done by a provincial named Thomas Fawcett. The general, it is said, had cut down a provincial for disobeying orders in sheltering himself from the enemy's fire, and the brother, who witnessed the act, determined to avenge his death, and awaiting the first opportunity, lodged a ball in the body of his overbearing commander.

This statement has been disputed, and another account says the general was killed by Captain Robert Allison.

Braddock, in his extreme self-confidence and presumption, disregarding the warnings of Washington, fell into an ambuscade of French and Indians seven miles from Fort Duquesne and was mortally wounded, and this was followed by the whole army retreating in great disorder, leaving the dead and baggage to the mercy of the savage foe.

Years after the fight there lived in Iredell county, North Carolina, James S. Allison. He is responsible for the following story: When he was a small boy his father lived on the same farm in North Carolina with his grandfather, William Allison. James Allison had an older brother, Robert Allison, who was a captain in Braddock's army, in the advance guard. Robert Allison was in several skirmishes with the Indians with Braddock and General Washington. When the British forces fell into ambuscade in Braddock's campaign, and many of these had been killed, especially officers, because they could not see the enemy among the trees and bushes, nor defend themselves, and the general would not let them retreat, then he, Captain Allison directed his orderly sergeant to shoot Braddock, in order that they might get out of the difficulty without any further useless sacrifice of life.

This affidavit instead of shooting the general as he was ordered, shot several horses from under him; and when Captain Allison saw that he was disobeying orders, he took the gun out of his hands and shot Braddock himself. Captain Allison told this story to his sister, Agnes Allison, and forbade her to make it public at that time, or he would be hanged for it.

Although this story might cause some doubt, there is no essential improbability in the statement, for, it is said that in the Mexican war and later in the civil war cases often occurred in which officers purposely shot their own men in order to protect the lives of the soldiers from useless slaughter.

In this battle Braddock braved every danger. His secretary was shot dead; both his English aides were disabled early in the engagement, leaving Washington alone to distribute the orders. "I expected every moment," said one whose eye was on him, "to see him fall." He had two horses shot under him, and four bullets passed through his coat, yet he escaped without a wound.

"To the public," said Samuel Davies, a learned Virginia divine, in the following month, "I point out that heroic youth, Colonel Washington, whom I cannot but hope Providence has preserved in so signal a manner for some important service to his country."

"Who is Mr. Washington?" asked Lord Halifax, a few months later. "I know nothing of him," he added, "but that they say he behaved in Braddock's action as bravely as if he really loved the whistling of bullets."

After Braddock was wounded he was with difficulty brought off of the field, and borne in the train of the fugitives. All the first day he was silent, but at night he roused himself to say: "Who would have thought of it?" On the night of the 12th he roused from his lethargy to say: "We shall know better how to deal with them another time," and died. His grave may still be seen near the national road, about a mile west of Fort Necessity.

The obstinacy of the English general, who was not familiar with Indian fighting and was too proud to take the advice of Washington, brought his death, but whether he fell pierced by the bullets of the enemy or his own men to save their comrades in the midst of the slaughter, will never be known.

WORK.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Work is a distinctly human thing. The man without Work in his Soul is an Idler of the worst sort. And this planet begrudges and growls at the space given to him who finds Work a burden.

The Worker is the one who Scores.

True, he is sometimes "out" because of a "caught fly"—but he always has stored away somewhere in the end of his "bat" a few odd "home runs." And it is "home runs" that win in the Game of Baseball and of Life.

Work gives exercise to both Mind and Body. And it attracts the eye of Opportunity.

But Work without Wisdom—Work without Will—Work without Purpose—is worse than to do no Work at all. Work is for Achievement and for an End that counts for Usefulness.

Work, then, while the blood is warm and the bones are elastic. Work while the muscles are supple and the head is clear. For there always comes a time when your tools must be set aside and your step will slacken and the messages of your brain will come slow and sluggish and the day will darken and your life will seem to want sleep.

Work while yet there is time and inclination and a happy spirit. Work your best this very day.

For after all—it's Fun!

THE WAY THE WIND BLOWS.

By Philip Weltner, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia

Upson county, Georgia, is the straw that shows the way the wind blows. Warden Crawley puts point to the situation when he says: "Mean wardens make mean men." The tendency to employ hard men to work convicts, he characterizes as a fatal mistake. Here is Upson county's method: "I have as little trouble with my convicts as any warden in the state, no escapes, nor attempts to escape, and good discipline, if not better, as can be found in any road camp in Georgia. I use no chains, no shotguns, no guard, other than a foreman with each crowd. I make the convicts feel as if they had my implicit confidence. They in turn are anxious to please me, taking an especial interest in their work as the surest means to this end. I rarely have to use the lash. When they knowingly violate some rule, I whip them, but only with sufficient severity to have them appreciate the gravity of the offense. My men will get busy with a new man and tell him how to conduct himself; they will watch him and report to me what they think of his reliability. When I get a new man, I put no shackles on him, but give him every opportunity to show what his sentence without ever having had them on. From my experience, I feel safe in expressing the belief that I could take any camp of convicts in the state and work it up to what is being accomplished in Upson county."

If this is true of one camp, why not use the same methods in the other one hundred and thirty-one? Why this injustice of one hundred and thirty-two different standards of discipline? There is a reason. It goes to the very bottom of Georgia's penal system. Many are fearful of assaying a cure for this miserable inequality on the plea that the remedy is radical. But extreme evils require extreme remedies. Until we can standardize the camps and bring them to use the best methods, both in handling men and building roads, the county camps will be wasted money and a definite menace to the state by turning out men made more brutal, reckless and mean.

"The Good Old Times."

(From The Waco Tribune.)

In a resume of things as they were a hundred years ago, we read that a New England girl was not allowed to marry until she could bake a loaf of bread and cut it in smooth, even slices while it was still warm. Also that dances were given in Philadelphia every week, but young people under 30 and girls under 18 were not permitted to attend. Now we are not one of those who believe that all of the good perished with the "good old days," neither are we of the opinion that a custom should be discarded simply because it is old. There was merit in both of these propositions, and a good deal of the American people would be safer and happier, too, if these restrictions had been preserved.

A Lucky King's Museum.

(From The London Chronicle.)

King Alfonso is credited with forming a collection of objects associated with the various attempts against his life. Among other items, he possesses the teat of a feeding bottle, with which an attempt was made to poison him at the age of eight months; the walking stick with which a discontented servant tried to brain him, pieces of the bomb thrown at him in Barcelona, the skeleton of one of the horses killed by the bomb attempt in the Rue de Rivoli, Paris, and fragments collected in the street after the explosion of the infernal machine hurled at the royal carriage on his wedding day.

The Humorous Landlady.

(From The Boston Times.)

One of the young men in the boarding house had the double fault of slowness in paying his bills and fussiness about the service. One morning he said peevishly to the landlady: "Mrs. Jones, will you tell me why my napkin is so damp?" "Yes, Mr. Wicks," replied the landlady promptly. "It's because there is so much due on your board."

JURY WILL PROBE DICTAGRAPH ROW

A. L. Colyar, Jr., George M. Gentry and G. C. Febuary Summoned at Request of Chief Lanford.

An investigation of the separate phases of the row resulting from the dictagraph traps laid by city detectives for Attorney Thomas B. Felder and Mayor James G. Woodward is believed to be forecast on the grand jury by the summoning before it of A. L. Colyar, Jr., George M. Gentry and G. C. Febuary. All these men played an important part of the performance and were summoned, it is claimed, at the request made by N. A. Lanford, chief of the detective department.

One of the most startling features of the afternoon session was the probing into the affairs of Police Commissioner William C. Fain. Allen Young, a real estate dealer, was put upon the stand, and is said to have been asked to furnish proof in regard to the revelations in which Fain was said to have been the central figure in a carousal in an Ivy street house.

Whipping Charge Answered.

It is claimed that Fain also mistreated one of the women most brutally and that when the police answered the women's screams and raided the place, they arrested Fain, who was later given his liberty by order of higher police officials.

Mr. Fain made the following statement to a Constitution reporter:

In answer to the charges which appeared against me in an afternoon paper, I beg to say in justice to my friends and the public that I am not in the least surprised at any accusations that have been or may be brought against me or any other city official, who is publicly known as a strong supporter of James L. Beavers, chief of police, and his administration of the police department.

As the main issue was directed at him and his department, it is but natural that the same muckrakers would also attack his supporters with the hope of at least swaying public opinion to suit their ends, regardless of the cost to others.

As for the accusations against me, they are of such absurdity in origin of such undermining purpose, their author so insignificant, that I do not care to waste my time in further discussion of the matter, but I am perfectly willing for the people who know me, and the better ones with whom I am not acquainted to judge for themselves.

The other four witnesses who were called before the jury were Colonel Felder, who testified also on Tuesday; Police Chief James L. Beavers, J. E. Skaggs, agent for the Southern Express company, and Thomas Hutts, a negro elevator boy for the Southern hotel.

The fact that Mr. Skaggs was summoned and that another man, whose name was not given, had been communicating with the solicitor in regard to the operation of locker clubs in Atlanta, makes it appear that the question of liquor, as connected with vice and immorality, will be taken up in a comprehensive report at the end of the term of the present grand jury.

During the morning session Colonel Felder declared in a public statement that he had never held Chief Beavers to be connected either personally or officially with graft or corruption, and that he had never said anything that he believed might be constructed to reflect upon the police chief himself.

As Colonel Felder made these remarks he referred to the head of the other department by which it was taken to mean that he was speaking of Chief N. A. Lanford, and in this case renewed his accusations.

Session of Three Hours.

After querying the five witnesses for something like three hours, the grand jury conferred with the solicitor for nearly an hour, and finally adjourned at 1:45 until 10 o'clock this morning.

It is declared that Colonel Felder, in his statements before the body, made an added list of houses and hotels where it is claimed that vice flourishes without hindrance.

Colonel Felder is also said to have repeated his request for a grand jury investigation of the charges against him in the dictagraphing of himself by detectives and the allegations that he had offered February $2,000 for affidavits in the Reagan case.

"I talked to them about the vice situation, and along practically the same lines as on the first day," was all that Chief Beavers would make in comment upon his testimony.

At the conclusion of the day's work, Foreman L. H. Beck declared that the probe would be one of the most extensive and thorough ever undertaken by a fulton grand jury.

"We intend to go deeply into the matter and to try to get the facts in both sides and at the proper time we will make them public."

Make Report to Judge.

It is believed to be more than likely that the grand jury, which is taking up this probe independently of Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey, will make its findings to the superior court judge who discharges them in July, and that they will be a general statement of the vice situation in Atlanta.

In lieu of this, the body may indict any persons whom it sees fit, provided it secures evidence against them. Should the former way be adopted, the situation would probably come back to a succeeding grand jury in case that indictments should be asked by the solicitor.

For today's session summons were issued for the appearance of John Price and Hartlee Branch, both connected with an afternoon paper. It is believed that through them a phase of the dictagraph case may be taken up.

Grocers and Butchers Celebrate Wednesday Half-Holiday

Two scenes in the big parade on Wednesday afternoon, when three miles of wagons and cars crowded streets.

Grocers' and Butchers Parade Witnessed by Many Thousands

The great parade of the grocers and butchers yesterday afternoon, celebrating the first weekly half holiday which will be observed on Wednesdays by both the wholesale and retail establishments through the months of June, July and August, was a monumental affair, both in its proportions and significance.

Three miles of carts, delivery vans, ice wagons and gaily decorated floats, starting at the state capitol about 2 o'clock and winding through the main business and residence streets of the city told the story of the half holiday for the thousands who are engaged in the business of feeding the city.

Incidentally it also served fair warning upon all housewives that Wednesday's marketing must be done before 2 o'clock in the afternoon, else the cupboard must, perforce, be bare. On Wednesdays no grocery stores or butcher shops will be open, and for this half holiday to be a thorough going success—that is, to work satisfactorily to both merchant and patron—the co-operation of the housewives of Atlanta is absolutely necessary.

Parade Is Unprecedented.

The parade Wednesday afternoon was unprecedented by anything ever seen in the city of Atlanta. With portly butchers, for all the world like the famous one in the tale of "Jack and the Bean Stalk," jolly grocers who would have delighted the heart of Peck's Bad Boy and beautiful fairy floats, the pageant of the grocers and butchers seemed to have marched by magic straight from the open pages of a child's story book down into Peachtree street.

As the royal procession of the grocers and butchers passed through the street they showered upon the thousands of spectators who thronged the curbs much favor in advertising novelties, souvenirs and confetti. And great were the shouts and laughter that greeted the holiday-makers from their friends upon the pavement.

There was probably not a grocer or butcher in the city whose business was not represented in the the parade. The little one-horse dray of the corner grocery, attired in gala array, trailed in the wake of the pretentious columns of auto vans of the biggest concerns in town in such numbers that the procession seemed literally to stretch back over the edge of the world.

Motto Is a Feature.

A unique feature of the parade was Charles McHenry, a highly respected negro grocer of 304 Marietta street, who was out with his wagons in full force. McHenry entered the parade at the request of the white grocers, who thus paid tribute to the long service of a good darky. He has been at his present place of business ever since 1875, and his recognition in the parade of Wednesday was proof of the spirit that exists between the two races under normal conditions.

The pageant was rife with colorful pomp and splendor. The procession was headed by a squadron of mounted police with blue uniforms shining and every big brass button gleaming like burnished gold. The marshals and aides rushed to and fro up and down the lines with their gay red regallias flowing in the breeze in the gayest fashion. The ragtime tunes of the brass bands kept the crowd in a mood highly receptive of everything that looked like fun, and the pranks of the men afoot, garbed in gaudy and picturesque costumes, and the friendly jibes of the spectators furnished rollicking fun unlimited.

Thanks the Workers.

O. T. Camp, president of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' association, in a letter to The Constitution, has asked that his appreciation of the splendid work of the marshals and their aides be publicly extended.

Here is Mr. Camp's letter:

"Editor The Constitution: I want you to extend a word of thanks to Mr. Harry Schlesinger and Mr. D. N. McCullough and their co-aides for their kind assistance in our grand parade of today, and especially Mr. Francis Kamper, chairman of the holiday committee, who worked so faithfully with us. Yours very truly, 'Atlanta Always Ahead.'

O. T. CAMP."

Mr. Camp also asked that the thanks of the association be extended to Gerson Bros. and others who worked so hard in forming and keeping the vans and vehicles in the proper line of march.

CLARK HOWELL IS THANKED BY ENDOWMENT COMMITTEE

The Ella F. White endowment committee of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs call grateful attention to the fact that the successful Woman's Edition of June 4 was the result not alone of four months' of hard work, but quite as much of a number of years of close official relation between the Georgia Federation and its official organ, The Atlanta Constitution.

Only out of such long use and common knowledge of a complex subject could such an achievement as today's edition have been brought about.

To the Editor in Chief, Mr. Clark Howell, the thanks of all organized women in this state should go not only for the present opportunity but for many years of courteous consideration during which he has shown himself to be unfailingly the discerning friend of the best in organized effort. The business dealings of the committee have been with Mr. W. L. Halstead, business manager, and it is our pleasure to say of him that he has been, in every detail, better even than his word.

OLD GUARD IS HOME FROM TRIP TO EAST

"Tour Was Just One Good Thing After Another," Declares Col. J. R. Smith.

Atlanta's Old Guard returned from its mission of peace in the east, Wednesday morning. Early morning trains brought members from Savannah, where the best reception was tendered by the Georgia Hussars. The battalion returned from New York by steamship.

Colonel J. R. Smith, who acquired the title of reverend while in the east, declares that the tour was wonderful. He said that in every city the guard was royally treated. The Atlantans were met by the military in every city, and receptions and banquets were the order.

In Washington, President Wilson went out and met the guard, and in Baltimore the whole town turned out to see the visitors.

"There was a big military parade in Philadelphia," Colonel Smith explained. "Suddenly there came a downpour of rain and the parade disbanded. The Old Guard did not break rank, but marched alone to the strains of 'Dixie' to the pier, where we took a boat. I never heard such cheering. There were thousands on hand to say farewell.

"In New York two dinners were given in honor of the guard. We were on the front pages of the newspapers. In Boston deeds to the city were made out and turned over to us. The guard took part in the memorial exercises, each member placing a wreath on the monument. The New Haven Grays entertained us. I tell you it was just one good thing after the other."

Colonel Smith said that the battalion enjoyed every minute of the trip. He made the announcement that next year the Old Guard would probably go to Europe.

OPEN TOWN CANDIDATE WINS IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, June 4.—Enthusiastic crowds thronged the streets last night and early today to cheer the overthrow in the election yesterday of the good government organization, which has been in the ascendant in city politics since the recall of Mayor Harper five years ago. The announcement of the election to the mayoralty of Police Judge H. H. Rose, an independent candidate, who ran without the support of one of the six newspapers of the city, caused the demonstrations. On incomplete returns early today Rose was conceded a majority of 7,000 over John W. Shenk, city attorney of the good government organization, and candidate of the municipal conference. The election was the climax of a spirited campaign.

Rose's candidacy was assailed by practically every minister of the city on the ground that his election would be followed by an "open town" regime.

AUGUSTAN IS NAMED CONSUL TO SAXONY

Washington, June 4.—(Special)—In the batch of diplomatic nominations which President Wilson is expected to send to the senate tomorrow the following are expected:

Minister to Switzerland, Pleasant A. Stovall, of Savannah; consul general at Dresden, Charles G. Pressley, of Augusta. For some time it has been known that Mr. Stovall would get a good diplomatic post, but his nomination has been held up for some unaccountable reason.

Mr. Pressley will succeed T. St. John Gaffney, of New York, who is a unique character among American diplomatists.

TO SEARCH SEAS FOR DYING WOMAN'S HUSBAND

New Bedford, Mass., June 4.—A tug boat has been chartered to go to the Hatteras whaling grounds to find the whaling schooner A. M. Nicholson and Erin Captain Horace Smith to the bedside of his sick wife. When the Nicholson left New Bedford two months ago Mrs. Smith accompanied her husband, but being taken suddenly ill, was landed on Block island. The whaling schooner then resumed her voyage.

NEW TRIAL IS SOUGHT FOR CHARLES BECKER

Schepp's Testimony Basis of Action Taken to Free New York Officer.

New York, June 4.—A new trial for Charles Becker, the police lieutenant convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, and now in the Sixth house at Sing Sing, was sought in the supreme court today on four grounds, namely:

First, that new evidence had been discovered; second, that the verdict of conviction was contrary to law and against the weight of the testimony; third, that Sam H. Haas, a juror, was separated from the other jurymen on two occasions when he visited a dentist's office; fourth, that a new trial should be granted in the interests of justice. The action was made before Justice Goff, who presided at Becker's trial.

Joseph A. Shay, Becker's lawyer, submitted twenty-four affidavits, most of which have already been made public, of newspaper reporters and others who talked with Sam Schepps when he returned to New York from Cuba. These affidavits are in support of the contention that Schepps was an accomplice of Jack Rose in the murder and that therefore his testimony should have been considered as such.

Frank A. Moss, the assistant district attorney, who conducted the prosecution, opposed the motion, on which the court did not rule.

BUTTS' SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS 3,799 CHILDREN

Jackson, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—Complete figures for the school census of Butts county show 3,799 children between the ages of 6 and 18, an increase of 92 over the census taken five years ago. The increase means that the county will receive $276 or thereabouts more of the state fund for the next year.

Within the limits of the city of Jackson there are 286 whites and 211 colored.

There are only six white children in the county who can neither read nor write, and only one child, a boy 15 years of age, who has never attended a public school.

Blacks Spirited Away.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 4.—Preston Jones, William Lyle and Haynes Terry, three negroes, were spirited away from Knox county jail this morning and taken to Chattanooga for safe keeping. They arrived in the latter city at about 11 o'clock. Jones is the negro who killed Policeman Sam McC. Hickey last Saturday night and who was arrested and confessed late yesterday afternoon.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Webb's Reception.

A delightful occasion was the reception given by Mrs. Guy Webb at her home, "The Pines," in Decatur yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Marie Wright, a bride-elect, and for Miss Willie Norton, of Social Circle.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns and a profusion of pink and white sweetpeas and baskets filled with pink roses. A large plateau of pink and white sweetpeas was the centerpiece of the table in the dining room. Silver candelabra had pink silk shades, and all other details of the pretty table were in pink and white. The punch bowl, on the porch, was presided over by Miss Margaret Brantley. Mrs. Webb wore a gown of blue charmeuse satin draped with marquisette of the same shade.

Assisting in entertaining were: Mrs. W. H. F. Hamilton, Mrs. H. W. Cantrell, Mrs. O. D. Kelley, Mrs. M. J. Wright, Mrs. C. M. Trippe, Mrs. T. O. Poole, Misses Georgia Weeks, Carrie Weeks, Lucile Moore, Lizzie Moore and Ruth Harris.

Mrs. Brown to Entertain.

Mrs. J. Enos Brown will entertain twenty guests at bridge this afternoon in compliment to Mrs. William Gray, of Richmond, who is the guest of Mrs. Fairfax Montague, and for Mrs. John Brown, who has recently come to Atlanta to make her home.

Mrs. White's Reception.

A beautiful reception yesterday was that given by Mrs. Warren D. White, the occasion assembling a large company to meet her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Glasgow, of Tyrone, Pa. Miss Lira Andrews, a bride-elect, and Mrs. Robert Hall, of Washington city. Elaborate decoration obtained throughout the house. There was a cool massing of palms and ferns in hall and reception rooms, and pink sweet peas and Killarney roses in profusion were used with effect. The tea table was picturesque in pink, its centerpiece a basket of roses.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. George W. Andrews, Mrs. Frank Markel, Mrs. John R. Wilkinson, Mrs. S. C. Dobbs, Mrs. W. A. Candler, Mrs. John R. Dickey, Mrs. Fay Wilson, Mrs. W. M. Fain, Mrs. R. C. Turner, Miss Pauline Norman, Miss Kate Baker, Miss Jennie Sue Bell and Miss Annie Mae Patterson, and punch was served by Miss Mildred Harris and Miss Louis Patillo.

Miss Elizabeth Owens will celebrate her birthday with an afternoon party Saturday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Owens, in Druid Hills. Sixty boys and girls are invited.

Miss McKenzie's Luncheon.

Miss Annie Lee McKenzie's luncheon yesterday was a beautiful occasion, artistic in plan and of happiest spirit. Mrs. Charles T. Hopkins, Jr., was the pretty guest of honor, and ten young married women were invited to meet her. The central decoration was an oblong plateau of lavender sweet peas, out of which rose a silver candelabra with silver shades. At each end were baskets of lavender sweet peas, the handles tied with lavender tulle, on which were poised yellow butterflies. The hand painted place cards were minuet dancers in lavender and pretty detail of color was in shades of lavender. Miss McKenzie wore a dainty gown of white embroidered net with blue ribbons. Mrs. Hopkins' becoming suit was of blue linen with finish in black, and her hat was all black.

Miss Hull's Recital.

Miss Sally Cobb Hull, member of the organ class of Mrs. Eda E. Bartholomew, will give her certificate recital Friday evening, June 6, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Second Presbyterian church. She will be assisted by Miss Mamie Clyburn, soprano.

The public is invited to attend.

Heart-Dice Party.

Miss Margaret Mitchell will entertain forty or fifty of her girl friends at heart dice Friday afternoon, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mitchell, on Peachtree road.

Bridge Series.

Miss Minnie Lee Hays will entertain at bridge Thursday afternoon, this event is the first of a series. There will be two tables.

Dancing Party.

Mr. John T. Stewart gave a delightful dancing party last night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stewart, on Ponce de Leon avenue. His guests included one hundred of the high school and younger college sets.

Decorations of purple and white wisteria carried out the high school colors, which were repeated in other pretty detail, and delicious refreshments were served. Punch bowls on porch and in hall were inviting between dances, and an orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

W. C. T. U.

The superintendent of the department of "co-operation with missionary societies" will conduct the service for the Atlanta Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance union, Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the Sunday school room of Trinity church. Arrangements for observance of flower mission day (June 9), must be made, and the unfinished rummage sale must be considered. Members are therefore urged and expected to be present. Visitors are always cordially received.

Miss Parks to Entertain.

Miss Alice Parks will entertain at bridge next Friday at her home on Eleventh street, in compliment to Miss Jessie Dixon, of Savannah, who will be her guest.

Hughes-Osborne.

The wedding of Miss Mary Annie Hughes and Mr. Ernest Lawton Osborne will be an event of Wednesday evening, June 11, at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother. Miss Ollie May Osborne will be maid of honor, and Miss Jessie Thompson and Miss Julia Osborne, of Augusta, Ga., will be bridesmaids. Mr. Robert Quinn will be best man and the bride will be given away by her uncle, Mr. W. L. Thompson. Dr. DuBose will officiate. A large reception will follow the ceremony.

Chrysanthemum Club.

A regular meeting of the College Park Chrysanthemum club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George B. Findlay. Mrs. J. H. Porter and Mrs. John R. Wilkinson, of Irman Park, were present and gave interesting talks on the cultivation of chrysanthemums. They were each presented with large bouquets of sweet peas by Mrs. Oscar Palmour, president of the club.

For Miss Hughes.

Among those who will entertain for Miss Mary Annie Hughes, a bride-elect, will be Miss Ollie May Osborne, who gives a reception Tuesday afternoon; Miss Mary Camp entertains at a box party Saturday afternoon at the Forsyth; Miss Isma Daniel a box party Monday afternoon; Mrs. W. S. Thompson a bridge party Wednesday morning; Miss May Richardson a luncheon next Thursday; Miss Mayme Webb a reception Saturday, the 14th, at her home on Spring street; Miss Florence Dugger entertains Thursday, the 12th, and the teachers of Peeples street school will give a luncheon at Durand's tomorrow.

Miss Gardien to Entertain.

Miss Augusta Gardien will entertain about fifty guests at a dance this evening at her home on Juniper street.

Mrs. Gilbert's Luncheon.

Miss Muriel Hall, a bride-elect, and Miss Elizabeth Boyd, the guest of Miss Carolyn King, were the honor guests at a luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. James Gilbert at her home on Piedmont avenue.

Pink sweet peas formed the centerpiece of the table and all of the decorative details. The artistic table were in pink and white.

There were sixteen guests.

Mrs. Dunbar's Luncheon.

Mrs. Charles Dunbar was hostess at a delightful bridge luncheon yesterday at the East Lake club in compliment to Miss Helen Tauch, of New York, who is the guest of Mrs. Beaumont Davidson.

The prizes were jeweled bandeaux. The guests were Miss Tauch, Miss Emma Kate Amorous, Miss Frances Connally, Miss Janet Stirling, Miss Lucile Dennis, Miss Louise Johnson, Miss Randall, Miss Janet Robinson, Miss Virginia Hoffman, Miss Leonora Maddox, Miss Wyatt, Miss Gladys Hanson and Mrs. Beaumont Davidson.

Pupils' Recital.

The piano pupils of Mrs Herbert H. Mattingly will give a recital at Cleveland-Manning concert hall, 80 North Pryor street, Saturday evening, June 7, at 8:15 o'clock.

Those taking part will be Miss Virginia Raley, Miss Lillian Dixon, Miss Pointer Donaldson, Miss Margare Brady, Miss Clara May George, Miss Lynch, of Florence, S. C., whose splendid work in serious parts in former plays has won for him recognition which is enviable; the second lead is taken by the author, Mr. Dunlap; other men are: Clark Howell, Jr., Louis Fincher, of Atlanta; Albon Reed, Bennett Conyers, of Cartersville, and Charles Jacobson, of Atlanta. The feminine roles are to be taken by Miss Mary Lyndon, who has directed the Thallans for several years; Misses May and Elizabeth Smith, honorary members of the club this year, and little Miss Nella Avery, a talented child in amateur plays.

The play has good many elements which combine to center interest on this first production of the work of a member of the oldest dramatic club of any college in the south.

Virginia Clarke, Miss Jane Kelley, Master Murray Dixon, Miss Mary Bennett, Miss Margaret Reiley, Miss Mary Lee Wilhelm, Miss Mildred Stephens, Miss Ruth Herrington, Miss Elizabeth Robinson, Miss Margery Clegg, Miss Anne Will Moore, Miss Charlotte Fogg, Miss Josibel Christopher.

To Bridal Party.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Owens' dinner tonight in compliment to Miss Louise Ripley and Mr. D. L. MacIntyre, Jr., will be a pretty affair, the party to include the attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Homer McAfee, Miss Julia MacIntyre, Miss Frances Anxley, Miss Sina White, Miss Laura Ripley, Messrs. Remer MacIntyre, Harold Swanson, Cherry Emerson, E. V. Carter, Jr.

Martin-Sears.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Walker announce the marriage of their sister, Miss Sarah Kennon Martin, to Rev. Alfred J. Sears, which took place at home, 264 Oak street, West End, on Wednesday morning, June 4, at 10 o'clock. There were present only relatives and a few friends

Mr. and Mrs Sears will be at home after June 10 in Winterville, Ga

Ice Cream Party.

The children of State Street school, who have made 100 in attendance during the term just closing, will be entertained by the faculty this afternoon at an ice cream party

YOAKUM-LARKIN.

New York, June 4.—Miss Bessie F. Yoakum, second daughter of B. F. Yoakum, head of the St. Louis and San Francisco railway system, was married at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church this afternoon to Francis Rham Larkin, a young commission merchant of New York. A reception at the Yoakum town house followed the ceremony. A number of Miss Yoakum's friends from Texas were present.

Family Reunion.

To meet Mr. Frank T. Wright and daughter, Mrs. Thorpe, of Hope, Ark., the relatives and friends are invited to a reunion at Grant park Friday morning, June 6, at 10 o'clock. There will be a basket dioner.

TEXAS BEGINS SUIT AGAINST OIL TRUST

Corsicana, Texas, June 4.—Investigation of books and records continued today in the taking of testimony by the state of Texas in its suit to oust the Magnolia and Corsicana Petroleum companies from Texas and to penalize them and the Standard Oil companies of New York and New Jersey and certain individuals over $99,000,000. The state attorneys said they would be through with the books in time to begin taking testimony this afternoon. The investigation of records was done for the information of state's attorneys and the results were not made public.

POLICY OF ECONOMY ON FRISCO RAILROAD

St. Louis, June 4.—Further evidence of the intention of the receivers for the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad to inaugurate a policy of strict economy was given today when one of the receivers intimated to a reporter that B. F. Yoakum would not be retained as chairman of the board.

"Mr Yoakum now has no voice in the affairs of the road," said the receiver. "His status will be determined after we have gone over the affairs of the road with Circuit Judge Sanborn. It is possible Mr. Yoakum will be retained only in an advisory capacity."

It was stated here today that the receivers would save $200,000 a year by cutting salaries of high officials.

NEW PLAY TO BE FEATURE OF ATHENS COMMENCEMENT

Athens, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The Thalian play, followed by the pantheon dance, on the evening of Friday of next week, will begin commencement at the university.

The first play ever written by a member of the Thalians is to be put on, "The House on the Sands," by Edgar B. Dunlap, of Gainesville, who has produced a clever three-act play with the first scenes laid in the mountains of north Georgia, with which the author is familiar; the last acts in the governor's mansion in Atlanta.

There is no 'jinx" attached to the fact that the play is to be presented on Friday, the 13th, of nineteen-thirteen, and that there were really and truly till a slight change was made thirteen persons in the cast.

The lead is to be taken by James M.

PEACHTREE REPAVING URGED BY CITIZENS

The County Commissioners Will Take Up Request at Meeting on Tuesday.

The question of repaving Peachtree road between Fifteenth street and Buckhead, which was set for a hearing Wednesday before the county commissioners, was ordered postponed by that body until its special meeting, called for next Tuesday, to settle the matter of paying on courthouse contracts.

Peachtree road has long since become badly worn and in need of repair and for several weeks various property owners and others who daily travel the highway have been besieging the commissioners for relief for the situation.

That the matter was not taken up on the day set for a hearing has proved a disappointment to all who are concerned in it, and it is expected that when the board again takes the question up that its individual members will be urged again to take action.

Traffic is Dangerous.

The worst part of the roadway at present is that between Buckhead and between there and the city, and in places the ruts are so badly worn as to make traffic dangerous.

The pavement between Sixth and Fifteenth streets has recently been resurfaced and convicts are now working on the road beyond Buckhead that extends to the county line. This work leaves the long stretch between Fifteenth street and Buckhead with a paving far below that of other sections.

"We realize as well as any one the need of a new pavement on the road," said Commissioner W. Tom Winn when asked for a statement Wednesday night in regard to the situation, "and the commissioners are anxious to remedy the present status of affairs. I know that the pavement of this road which is the main thoroughfare of the county is in far worse condition than that of many less important roads, and will urge that it be repaved."

"The roadway is now constructed of water-bound macadam, which has been oiled," he explained, "and which has now been rendered soft and unfit for heavy or frequent travel.

New Pavement Needed.

"What should be done is to put a new pavement on the road, or at least to resurface it as was down further in, but the question in my mind is whether or not we are able to do this now, with other work we already have mapped out.

"If we can do no more at present than to remedy affairs by rolling and patching the roadway and oiling it thoroughly, I will urge that this course be taken and then next year we can give the highway a new pavement, or at least a complete resurfacing."

Behind the movement for a new pavement in keeping with the needs of Peachtree road are many of the most influential citizens and land owners in that section. They are daily urging upon the commissioners the need for action this summer.

GRIFFIN IS DAMAGED BY ELECTRIC STORM

Griffin, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—A great amount of damage was done by a storm that has just visited this county. Lightning struck Will Moss, who was plowing in a field, killing him instantly. Also, Henry Starks was knocked from his porch to the ground in an unconscious condition, while part of his house roof was destroyed by lightning. For an hour or more the entire electric lighting and power system of Griffin was put out of commission.

The farming communities of the county suffered serious damage also. In the Mount Zion camp ground community a severe hailstorm was experienced, which did heavy damage to young cotton and corn, as well as ruining thousands of oats. Some of the young corn will have to be replanted, while practically all of the cotton will have to be plowed up and planted over again. This is specially true where the young cotton had been chopped. The scope of country visited by the hail-storm covers about 5,000 acres o land.

RAIN BREAKS DROUTH IN SOUTHWEST GEORGIA

Plentiful Showers in Dougherty and Thomas Put Crops in Flourishing Condition.

Albany, Ga., June 4—(Special.)—A wonderful improvement in the condition of crops in this section of the state has taken place within the last few days, the result of copious rains following a season of dry weather, which resulted in considerable damage, and was causing a good deal of uneasiness.

Cotton, which thrives with a minimum of moisture, had held its own during the dry weather, and is now growing at a wonderfully rapid rate. The corn crop has improved 50 per cent, farmers declare, within the past week, and present indications are that a fine yield will be made. The acreage in corn is believed to have been considerably increased over last year in his section of the state.

The oat crop, now being harvested, is one of the poorest made in recent years, and farmers are therefore more than usually concerned about the corn crop. The rains have seriously interfered with the harvesting of summer oats, this being a continuation of the run of hard luck which the crops have encountered almost from the time it was planted.

MILLIONAIRE'S ORGANS EXAMINED FOR POISON

Baltimore Md., June 4.—To determine the cause of his death, the vital organs of E. O. Painter, millionaire fertilizer manufacturer of Florida, are being examined by a chemist connected with Johns Hopkins hospital. On the result of the investigation, it is said, will depend the payment of about $1,178,000 in life insurance.

Painter met his death when he fell overboard from a ferryboat on the St. Johns river about two weeks ago. Whether Painter was drowned or died from poison is the question at issue.

MEMPHIS POSTMASTER GUILTY ON FOUR COUNTS

Memphis, Tenn., June 4.—Postmaster L. W. Dutro, of this city, defendant, in the court today was found guilty of four counts charging him with receiving money for political purposes. A fine of $1.00 and costs on each count was assessed. Because of ignorance of the law, District Judge John E. McCall declared that Dutro was only technically guilty and was dealt with leniently.

A PERFECT SIGHT WITH TETTER

Face and Hands Would Itch and Burn. All Scaly and Would Peel Off. Could Not Put Hands in Water. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

Rileyville, Va.—"I was cured of tetter by Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I suffered with a burning and itching. My face and arms were quite full of red and white spots and would itch and burn, and after so long a time they got all scaly and would peel off. I was a perfect sight. My face had ugly, scaly spots all over it; my hands would swell and cause me so much misery I could scarcely work at all. I could not put my hands in water and if I did I would suffer terribly for hours after. I could not sleep at all and was ashamed to face any of my neighbors. I suffered terribly. My face was almost a mass of sores, all scaly and cracked open.

"I tried all kinds of remedies but none proved successful until a friend told me of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used them by directions and was completely cured in about three weeks. It has shown no signs of ever returning." (Signed) Miss Mary Clatterbuck, May 14, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

H. A. TARVER,
Mayor of Albany.

Men of LaGrange Congratulate Women.

LaGrange, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The Woman's edition of The Constitution issued today is a credit both to The Constitution and to the women of Georgia. It demonstrates the fact that the women's clubs of the state are like the Woman's club of LaGrange—hard workers and winners in anything they undertake. The men of LaGrange congratulate the women of Georgia over the edition, and wish for the women's clubs of Georgia the greatest year's work in their history.

J. D. EDMONDSON,
Mayor of LaGrange.

Madison Proud of Edition.

Madison, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—Madison is ringing with praises at the phenomenal success of The Constitution of this date, under the auspices of the club women of Georgia. Our pride and interest are accentuated by having furnished two great factors in this unparalleled success of modern journalism. We claim both the state president, Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, and the eighth district president, Mrs. W. E. Sheppard. Madison joins the rest of the state in sincere congratulations to The Constitution and the club women of Georgia on the magnificent success of the women's club special.

Musical Tabloid.
(At the Bijou.)

The Bijou is drawing record audiences this week with the merry musical tabloid, The College Girls. Max Spelgel's song hit, The tuneful music, pretty girls, up-to-date production, scenery and light effects, all go to make this attraction a remarkable one at the prices, and that the sort of warm-weather show to entertain Bijou patrons. Daily matinees at 2 o'clock, except Monday and Saturday, when there are two matinees—at 2:30 and 4. Night shows, 7:30 and 9.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

With Lillian Shaw heading the bill and six other acts making up the program, and every one of the seven numbers a positive hit, there is little wonder that the Forsyth is being tested to its holding capacity this week. It is precisely the sort of show that has made the Forsyth one of the most popular places of amusement in the land. Headlining the bill for next week will be Rhoenn's Athletic Girls, a quintet of pretty maidens, who are expert in boxing, wrestling and bag-punching. This is one of the feature acts of vaudeville and should be a great drawing card. Others on the bill will be Travato, the eccentric violinist, and John and Mae Burke, in one of the cleverest comedy acts in vaudeville.

WILL NOT MERGE WITH WESLEYAN COLLEGE

LaGrange Female Trustees Deny That Absorption or Lease of School Is Contemplated.

LaGrange, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—By action of the board of trustees of the LaGrange Female college during its session which closed Tuesday night, all negotiations looking to the leasing or merging in any way of the LaGrange Female college with Wesleyan college were called off, and a united and unanimous board decided to begin work at once looking to the enlargement and improvement of the institution, looking to the point where it will be surpassed by none in the south.

In addition to some ten or fifteen local trustees, the following out-of-town trustees were present: Dr. J. P. Wilson, Cordele; Rev. S. S. Belk, Atlanta; Rev. John S. Jenkins, Atlanta; Rev. Frank Eakes, Atlanta; W. O. Jones, Elberton; Rev. G. W. Duvall, Marietta, and T. J. Christian, Elberton.

In regard to the negotiations which had been pending looking to the merging or lease of the LaGrange Female college by Wesleyan, the board has issued the following statement through Major J. M. Barnard, chairman, and Colonel A. H. Thompson, secretary:

"The board of trustees of the LaGrange Female college has just held its regular annual meeting, and authorizes the statement that the college has closed a most successful year, and that the reported lease of this institution by the board of trustees of Wesleyan Female college is not only incorrect and misleading, but that such an arrangement is not contemplated. While negotiations to that end were considered, they have now been called off and steps will be taken immediately looking to the raising of a large endowment fund to place the LaGrange Female college in the front rank of institutions of its kind in the south. Application will also be made immediately to have the college officially placed in class "A" of the educational institutions of the south, and whatever requirements are made in order to place the institution in such class will be met."

Gordon L. Williams, 9-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, died at the residence on Fortress avenue at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The body will be taken to Red Oak, Ga., at 9 o'clock this morning for funeral and interment.

W. B. Tate.

While working on the construction of a trestle for the Southern railway, W. B. Tate, a bridge builder, was fatally injured at Liddell Crossing at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, and died en route to the Grady hospital. His body was removed to Greenberg & Bond Co.'s chapel, and will be sent to his home in Greenville, S. C., today for funeral and interment. He is survived by his wife and one son.

will be named shortly and will begin at once casting about for a good man.

New Prudential Committee.

The new prudential committee for Mercer will consist of Judge McCall and Mr. Garner, the president and secretary of the board of trustees, the new president of the university and three other members to be named by Judge McCall.

This morning, after accepting the resignation of Dr. Jameson, the board of trustees voluntarily presented him with $1,000. This was done because Dr. Jameson still had another year to serve and will be put to considerable expense because of his being asked to resign.

There were never any definite charges made either against Dr. Jameson or the members of the prudential committee, but the trouble between them had been brewing for five or six years.

It seems that Dr. Jameson, on one side and the prudential committee on the other, did not jibe at all and were continually rubbing each other the wrong way.

They were lined up on opposite sides of every question that affected Mercer and the whole problem resolved itself into one of the trustees cleaning out both factions and putting in entirely new men.

Finance Question.

One of the things that is said to have aided in bringing about the situation was the handling of the finances of Mercer. Three of the members of the prudential committee, Messrs. Lane, Mallary and Felks, are directors of the Commercial National Bank, and it is said that Dr. Jameson was not at all pleased with the fact that the funds of the college were handled exclusively in that bank. This however, was only one of many little things which, coupled with Dr. Jameson's attitude relative to the Mercer removal question, made it necessary for the faculty to take drastic action.

Dr. S. Y. Jameson today tendered to the board of trustees his resignation as president. The prudential committee of the university, with the exception of its constitutional members, also resigned. The resignations were requested in resolutions adopted by the trustees at a meeting held last night.

It is said the disagreement between Dr. Jameson and the trustees was augmented by the president's action in regard to fraternity organizations at the university and by alleged ruptures with members of the faculty.

Many Names Suggested.

After receiving the resignations of the president and the prudential committee this morning, the board of trustees this afternoon began consideration of a possible successor to Dr. Jameson. A number have been mentioned, including Dr. E. C. Dargan, of Macon, Rev. John E. White, of Atlanta, Dr. W. L. Pickard, of Savannah; Hon. M. L. Brittain, state school commissioner; Professor E. T. Holmes, president of Gordon institute, at Barnesville, and Judge T. A. Parker, of Waycross.

It is possible, however, that none of these will be accepted and the trustees may go outside the state for the new president. It was stated some time ago that if Dr. Jameson resigned it was the intention to secure a man with a national reputation as an educator, one who would be able to give Mercer a higher standing than it now enjoys.

Jameson's Farewell Address.

This morning when Dr. Jameson had completed his farewell address in chapel he was given an ovation.

"The news of my resignation will cause pleasure to some and sorrow to others," said Dr. Jameson, in addressing the student body. "For myself, I can gladly take both sides by the hand, even though unwillingly to the bosom. I am glad and sorry to leave.

"It is needless to say that I have not made blunders. Most people do, but some—a very, very few—do not. Unfortunately, I belong to the larger class—that class which does blunder at times.

"I do not know whether I will remain in Georgia. I have not decided yet what I will do. I do not have to leave the state, you know, though some people would love to have me go. But no matter where I go I will always be at the call of Mercer and you boys whenever I am needed. Whatever the differences may have been between myself and others I love you all with all my heart. Some of you do not agree with me, but I love you just the same, and I leave your institution with no ill-will in my heart.

"May God bless you. May He bless every student and friend of Mercer. May He bless you all and bless you abundantly. Be true to Him and be true to man. Good-bye."

Do the Youngsters Read the Advertisements?

Indeed they do—some of them. That is, some of the advertisements.

Every real boy is interested in outdoor sport—baseball, tennis, walking, running, boating, fishing, swimming, and everything else that the summer season brings along.

He needs ever so many things—and he buys at such stores as advertise in papers like THE CONSTITUTION.

Girls, too, are interested in advertising.

For girls like to play tennis; they like canoeing; they love bathing, walking, riding and all other forms of healthy outdoor life.

All of which means that they must have suitable toggery, and that they will buy from merchants who cater suitably to their needs.

It will pay merchants at this season to dwell upon the requirements of young people, and it will likewise pay young people to follow the advertising of local merchants.

A tip in time saves money.

RECRUITING STATION RAIDED BY OFFICERS

Soldiers and Prize Fighters Are Arrested on Disorderly Conduct Charges.

Uncle Sam's soldiers were caught off their guard when Detectives Pittman and Carter raided the recruiting station last night, arrested several of the men, some of them in uniform, and preferred charges of disorderly conduct against them.

The soldiers were engaged in sundry games, it is charged, and little expected the surprise which culminated in their arrest. Among those men against whom charges were preferred was J. R. Haralson, who just enlisted in the army on Wednesday. W. G. Saunders, John Buttman, Elmer Petty, A. Silverman, J. M. Mason, Lewis Levy and Kid Young.

BISHOP CANDLER OPENS CORDELE CHAUTAUQUA

Cordele, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The Cordele chautauqua opened this morning under most auspicious circumstances. In compliance with Mayor Header's proclamation, declaring a half holiday, all of the business houses were closed and an audience that filled to overflowing the immense chautauqua auditorium heard the opening sermon by Bishop Warren A. Candler, declared to be on the most powerful discourses ever delivered here. Dr. Frederick A. Cook, in his lecture, "My Conquest of the North Pole," will be heard by many out-of-town people tomorrow evening.

Eat This Food During Summer

Be careful what you eat during hot weather. What you need is food that nourishes but does not heat the body.

Faust Spaghetti fits right into that class. It is a high gluten food—a bone, muscle and flesh former—but contains practically no fat, therefore cannot heat the body.

FAUST SPAGHETTI

makes a savory, appetizing dish. It can be served in a great many ways that appeal to the palate. It is easily prepared—it makes a nutritious, non-heating meal during the summer. Write for free recipe book, "Spaghetti and Its Uses." Faust Spaghetti put up in air-tight, moisture-proof packages.

Whiffs

Stop Faking.

REPORTS of games in some of the small Georgia towns have been reported incorrectly during the past two weeks. The party or parties who have been making a practice of reporting the results of their games in error are doing the reliable reporters an injustice. The reports in question have been evidently properly signed and appeared authentic. The Constitution has printed them only to receive a letter of condemnation from the opposing side. If this practice is continued, in justice to itself and to the reliable authorities, The Constitution will be forced to discontinue the publication of all the amateur games outside of Atlanta. We hope that we will not be forced to take this action.

Second Time.

RUBE BUSH, the New Orleans golf star, turned in the low medal score at Montgomery on Tuesday, and in so doing has the honor of being low medalist two years in 1911, when the tournament was held in Nashville, Bush led the field.

Atlanta Official.

GEORGE ADAIR, one of the local golf cracks was elected vice president of the Southern Golf association at the meeting Tuesday night, and is receiving the congratulations of his many friends. Memphis beat us out. The 1914 tournament will be held in the Bluff City.

Atlanta in Guide.

THE GOLFING world of Atlanta is represented fully in the 1913 official Spalding's Golf Guide, which is just from the press. Three pages written by The Constitution's golfing editor and six photos of Atlanta players appear in the guide and a good story about the Southern Golf association, with a photo of the former champions.

Another Comeback.

THE ORIGINAL comeback of them all is Heinie Peitz. The other day, when all Cardinals' catchers were laid up with injuries Heinie took his place behind the plaster and caught like he used to in the '90s, when he was a star. He proceed to the bases beautifully, drove out a triple and scored one of his team's two runs.

Record Breakers.

WHO jumped on poor old Walter Johnson and stopped his consecutive winning—the Browns. Who broke Cleveland's winning streak — the Browns. Who—who you could go on indefinitely. They are not good for much else but as record breakers they are in a class by themselves.

House of Johnson.

ONE NAME that is causing them to sit up and take notice this season in the baseball world is Johnson or to make it more interesting, Johnson by Walter Johnson of Washington; Indian Johnson, of Cincinnati; Ban Johnson, the pooh bah of the American league. Joe Johnson of Cleveland, and Jack Johnston of St. Louis are all cutting up.

Vive La France.

THE FRENCH have taken their place in the front ranks of sportdom lately. Of course, there is the great Frenchman, Napoleon Lajoie, but lately France sprang into prominence by Goux winning the International sweepstakes in his Peugeot, and Carpentier stopping Bombardier Wells.

Madison Wins Two.

Madison, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—Madison made a clean sweep of the series with Watkinsville's team by winning a double-header the first 2 to 1, and the second, 5 to 1. Madison has a fine team and will make it interesting to all comers. Emory college team plays here tomorrow and Friday.

Gibbons Beats White.

Boston, June 4.—Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, put a temporary stop to the title aspirations of Jack White, of Boston, in a 12-round bout here last night. Gibbons led throughout, jabbing White almost at will, but was punished at times during hard hitting flashes by the local boy.

Rain Brings Game to Close With Count Standing 2 to 2; Dent Deserved a Victory

By Dick Jemison.

The Crackers and the Billikens played to a 2 to 2 tie Wednesday afternoon in an endeavor to play off the postponed game of Saturday, which was broken up by a storm, but rain butted into the festivities again.

The Billikens had been retired in their half of the eighth in one, two, three order, when the rain put the pastime to an end for the rest of the afternoon, the score reverting to the seventh and even innings.

Elliott Dent and Chuck Case were the opposing twirlers, and they both hurled excellent ball, especially in the pinches, when men were threatening to score. The honors were about evenly divided, Case getting the least hits, but walked two men.

One Earned Run.

Only one run of the four scored was earned. This was a home-run smash by Walker in the opening session. The rest were directly attributed to errors.

But despite the errors the fielding was excellent afterwards, the infielders of both sides, especially Bisland and Alpermann, for the Crackers, and Knaupp and Manning, for Montgomery, handled some hard-hit chances in excellent style.

The pitchers had something on the batters throughout the pastime. It was just one of those games where good pitching and good fielding is combined and the hitting is not bunch.

The Billikens scored their first run in the one opener, when Walker picked the second ball pitched over Long's head for the circuit, making it easily.

The Crackers tied it in their half. Long got a life on Manning's error of his tap, was sacrificed to second by Welchonce, and when Manning threw badly to first Rabbit slept on to third, scoring on Alpermann's pinch swat to left.

The Crackers took the lead in the fourth. Bisland, first up, cracked a liberal one to right, and Rabbit on a wild pitch and scored when Chapman hit to Wares and the latter's throw was too late to the plate to get Bisland.

Two Consecutive Hits.

Chapman has the honor of making the first Cincinnati hit on the local grounds since the institution of the rule by President Kavanaugh.

The Billikens tied it in the seventh, when, with one gone, Kutina drew a free ticket, Sanborn hit to Dent at the plate and Chapman pegged the ball to the right field bank, Kutina scoring and Janiszewski taking third. The latter was thrown out trying to steal home.

No umpires were here for the game, and both were assigned, so George Rohe, former Cracker, and Bagby, for the Billikens, did the umpiring. In this connection, we recommend to President Kavanaugh that he fire two members of his present staff and appoint Rohe and Bagby. Their officiating was the best that has been seen on the local grounds this season.

The players kicked a little, which is only a habit, after all, but on not a single decision did they have a holler coming.

Lookouts 9, Barons 7.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 4.—Chattanooga defeated Birmingham 9 to 7 today in the hardest hitting game of the season at the local park. The visitors got a 4 to 1 lead off Kroh in the first five innings. In the fifth, three hits in succession off Sloan resulted in his being taken from the box. Thompson was sent in and the locals batted in several more runs before the game was over. Messenger's hitting and fielding featured for the visitors, while Street, Elston and Elberfeld each got three hits for the locals.

St. Louis, June 4.—St. Louis stopped the New York Nationals' winning streak today by free and timely hitting and won 6 to 4. St. Louis' 11 hits were all made in the six innings Mathewson pitched. Wiltse was alright. Griner, though hit hard, kept the hits scattered and was effective in all but the seventh inning.

Tabasco Kid's Lookouts Play Locals at Poncey; Musser Twirls Opener

Norman ("Tabasco Kid") Elberfeld and his Chattanooga Lookouts will be the attraction at Ponce de Leon park today, Friday and Saturday, a series of games that promises to be as closely played as it will be interesting.

To date the Crackers have annexed six straight games from the mountaineers, three on the home park and three in Lookoutville, but since the last meeting the Kid has gone out and secured a real ball club, one that will not be as easy pickings this time.

In Coveleskie and Sommers, Elberfeld has a pair of the best left-handers in the league, southpaws who have been pitching almost unbeatable ball, while in Gabby Street he has the best catcher in the circuit. Around these three players he has built his club.

Gillespie Is Hurt.

The prospect of a visit to Ponce de Leon mixed up a jinx in Jimmy Gillespie. The last time the Lookouts started for Atlanta, Jimmy was unable to accompany the team because of an injury. This time he will not only be unable to accompany the team, but he has played his last game for them.

He was knocked on the head by a fast one by Hardgrove, of Birmingham, in the final double-header Tuesday and his skull fractured. His condition is said to be critical.

Whenever the Crackers and Lookouts meet the battling is always fierce, but the meeting this time promises to be even fiercer.

The Lookouts will endeavor to wipe out the ignominy of the six straight defeats handed them by the Crackers while the locals, believing they "have something" on Elberfeld's crew will try to make the most of it, and increase their hold on a place at the top of the ladder.

Musser v. Sommers.

Paul Musser is Manager Smith's selection for the opening game of the series this afternoon, with Dunn catching. Rudy Sommers and Gaby Street will probably be the Lookouts' battery.

A ladies day is scheduled for Friday.

Here is the probable batting order of the two teams:

Scouts 5, Peaches 3.

Macon, Ga., June 4.—When Voss hit Hawkins, the second man to face him in the first inning today, he started a mess of trouble that lost him the game, 5 to 3. Melchoir followed with a single and Farrell scored both of them with a one-base smash to left that Nixon juggled. Hoffman clouted a drive to deep center a moment later that took a bloon-like bound off Nixon's head and went for a freak homer, the ball bringing up in a clump of weeds in the corner of the park, where Nixon couldn't find it.

The visitors added another in the second when Baumgardner scored on Smith's grounder and Voss walked three men, forcing in a run. From then on the college man was invincible.

The locals were hitting Wilder sharply at the finish, but were able to garner but three runs, the Jacksonville manager tightening up with men on bases. A great running one-handed catch by Nixon featured.

Gulls 1, Foxes 0;

Foxes 3, Gulls 1

Charleston, S. C., June 4—Charleston and Columbus divided a double-header here today, the Sea Gulls winning the initial game, 1 to 0, and losing the nightcap by a score of 3 to 1. Ward, who pitched both games for the visitors, had perfect control.

The locals scored the only run of the first game in the second. Kinsella, after being singled, stole second, and crossed the plate on Menefee's double to left. Taylor pitched excellent ball in this contest, giving up three hits.

Ward was in the points for the Foxes again in the second joust, but the home players were unable to solve his delivery to advantage. Foster only pitched a fair game. In the second, McLendon singled and went to second when Hoey allowed a throw to get by him. Jackson's bingle scored him. The Gulls came back in the fifth and tied the visitors. Weir hit safely, went to second on Kinsella's sacrifice and tallied on O'Brien's single, which Jackson let get through him.

A base on balls to W. Keating, a steal, an infield out and a scratch hit by Thompson are responsible for the Foxes' second run. The third tally was made in the ninth, when McLendon doubled, and O'Brien dropped McDuff's fly.

ABOYEUR WINS ENGLISH DERBY

Epsom, June 4.—A. P. Cunliffe's Aboyeur, with the betting 100 to 1 against him, was awarded first place today in the Derby, the chief sporting event of the British turf.

He was announced as the winner after his jockey had lodged an objection for bumping against Craganour, the favorite, who ran first past the winning post.

Second and third places went to W. Raphael's Louvois and W. Hall Walker's Great Sport, while the French horse, Nimbus, was placed fourth.

Of the 345 original entries for the stakes of $32,500, only fifteen participated in the race.

The time of Craganour for the mile and a half was 2 minutes 37 3-5 seconds. There was only a head between Craganour and Aboyeur, and a neck between Aboyeur and Louvois.

NEW MANAGER NAMED FOR AMERICUS TEAM

Americus, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The Americus Baseball association this afternoon secured Bill Cullman, second baseman of the Albany Selly league team. Cullman will enter upon his duties immediately, succeeding Hal Griffin, who has been acting manager since the retirement of former Manager Harry Weber. Griffin continues with the team as first baseman.

MIKE MURPHY GOES TO BEYOND

Great Trainer Passed Away Wednesday Morning—Was in Charge of America's Olympic Teams.

Philadelphia, June 4.—Michael C. Murphy, famous as a developer of athletes, died shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Never a robust man, "Mike" Murphy had been practically dying for the past fifteen years. About eight years ago he was at death's door, but he pulled through and was later able to render great service in his chosen calling.

Murphy was born in Natick, Miss., in 1860, and early in life became prominent as a trainer of athletes. He had charge of the American teams at three Olympic meets, the last being the victorious team of last year.

Many of the best college athletes in America have been developed by Murphy. To his wonderful knowledge of the conditioning men was due his selection as the trainer in charge of three foreign invasions, all of which turned out successful.

AMERICAN POLO TEAM IS NAMED

New York, June 4.—The American Polo association announced this afternoon the following line-up of the American team which will defend the international cup at Meadowbrook next Tuesday:

No. 1—L. E. Stoddard.
No. 2—Devereaux Milburn.
No. 3—Foxhall Keene.
Back—Malcolm Stevenson.

A more sweeping change in the line-up of the cup defenders could hardly have been made. Not only have three members of the crack team of 1911 been entirely eliminated from this year's team, but Devereaux Milburn has been shifted from back to No. 2.

Harry Payne Whitney's resignation as captain is implied by the announcement that Foxhall Keene will succeed him both as captain and at No. 3, both the Waterbury brothers have gone by the board.

Milburn has been rated at nine goals, whether he played at No. 2, No. 3 or back. Foxhall Keene, as No. 3, is rated as in-goal man. Stoddard is rated at seven goals, playing at No. 3 and at six goals at No. 1. In addition, he has the advantage of having a string of excellent mounts. Stevenson is rated at seven goals.

TO SIGN CONZELMAN BY NEXT SATURDAY

Bill to Look Over New Hurler Before Deciding Who to Release.

Pitchr Joe Conzelman will not be signed by Manager Billy Smith until next Saturday, after the final game with the Chattanooga Lookouts.

Bill wants to look over the new hurler for a couple of days in practice and also get a line on just which of the present staff he will have to let go when he signs him.

Conzelman looked good in his workouts Wednesday afternoon at Poncey. Manager Smith says he has an overhand curve drop that is one of the best he ever saw a pitcher deliver.

A rangy chap, of good size, Conzelman has the build to make the twirler. He will take the place of one of the present members of the twirling staff, and this change only will be made for the present. Just who will be let out has not been stated.

WILL OF MRS. DODD FOUGHT BY RELATIVES

They Declare That She Was Laboring Under an Insane Delusion.

Claiming that the late Mrs. Barbara C. Dodd, who, by her will, left a $100,000 bequest to Mercer university and smaller donations to other institutions, labored under an insane delusion which amounted to a monomania, seven of her relatives filed yesterday with the ordinary of Fulton county, their caveats objecting to the petition of Charles E. Currier, the executor, who is seeking to have the will probated.

Mrs. Dodd since her unfortunate marriage to J. H. Garner, and especially since her divorce from him, prior to the making of the pretended will and up to the time of her death, had labored under an insane delusion with reference to her heirs-at-law, which amounted to a monomania, which was at the time of the making of said pretended will the inducing cause of the exclusion of the heirs-at-law from the benefits of the will, which is therefore inoperative and void as to them," is the principal statement made in the caveat.

The objecting heirs are Barbara M. Dibble, Fannie T. Ackerman, Oscar C. Dibble, Thomas M. Barnard, George Dibble, Malcolm Dibble and Henry E. Dibble.

In their case, which is expected to be heard this week before Ordinary John R. Wilkinson, they are represented by Attorneys Rosser & Brandon, and King and Spalding and Underwood.

2 FRENCH JOURNALISTS FIGHT BLOODLESS DUEL

Paris, June 4.—A duel was fought today by leading literary men of Paris. Paul Hervieu, the academician, or "immortal," offended by a critical paragraph which appeared in The Action Francaise, had challenged Leon Daudet, the chief editor of that paper, and the couple met today at the Parc Des Princes and fought with pistols. Four shots were exchanged, but neither was hit. A reconciliation was brought about.

TOURNEY SPLITS INTO SIX FLIGHTS

Montgomery, Ala., June 4.—Today's play, which brought out several sensational features, brought the tournament of the Southern Golf association to the stage of the various flights, play in which begins at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Only the local men remain in the championship flight.

The greatest game of the day was that of Selden, of Macon, and Ward, of Birmingham, the former coming from behind, tying his opponent at the eighteenth hole and winning out on the nineteenth. Jacoby disappointed a big gallery by losing his first hole to Tyson, but showed excellent form thereafter, winning easily. Steinmehl, Birmingham's sensational young player, winner of the invitation tournament at Birmingham, lost his match to Stahlman, of Nashville. Ellis Knowles, of Pensacola, returned to form during the day and the greatest interest tomorrow attaches to his match with former Champion Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans.

The play for tomorrow in the respective flights will be as follows:

First Round, Championship Flight: R. G. Bush and C. H. Munger; Watkins and Edrington; Jacoby and Selden; Knowles and Whitney; McAfee and W. N. Read; Aldridge and Dimer; Tutwiler and I. W. Read; C. W. Jones and Krauss.

Second Flight: Fall and Hardy; Cullom and Selden; L. R. Munger and Stelhmehl; Condon and Rowan; Taylor and Brooks; Pooshe and Carroll; Corwin and Blanton.

Third Flight: Block and Wright; Adair and Probosco; Tyson and Jernigan; Watson and Stahlman; Johnson and Selbels; Wood and Sayre; Daley and Powell; Kirkland and Cobb.

Fourth Flight: Baugh and Kirkpatrick; Clark and Post; McNeal and Wood; Harnett and Roberts; S. J. Munger and Nicholson; Weaver and Petrie; Sullivan and England; J. B. Bush and Gelpi.

Fifth Flight: McCallie and Edgar; Richards and Johnson; Napes and R. F. Selbles; Crawford and Rhea; Gunter and Cowden; Gardner and Bowden; Tyson and Henderson; Rainwater and spratt.

Sixth Flight: A. B. Newell and Griffith; Gunter and Menager; Hazlewood and Mason; Thomas and Watts; Root and Stewart; Joseph and R. P. Jones; G. Gunter and E. M. Tutwiler; Hagan and Mallory.

MEXICAN REBELS TAKE MATAMORAS

Federal Defenders, Without Ammunition and Unofficered, Slip Away, Leaving Constitutionals in Control.

Brownsville, Texas, June 4.—The city of Matamoras, an important border point of entry, fell into the hands of Mexican constitutionalists today without further fighting or with little desperate fighting which characterized the long struggle yesterday. The federal defenders ran out of ammunition and they slipped away quietly, leaving the rebels in control.

The last stand by the decimated garrison of regulars and volunteers entrenched around the main plaza was made at 3 o'clock this morning when the men who had been in the trenches for nineteen hours without a moment for rest or eating, having used the last cartridge in their fight to hold the city against General Blanco's men, gave up the fight. Blanco's men did not attempt to force the center of the city until 5 o'clock today when they advanced from the market plaza which they had occupied at 3 o'clock Tuesday. They advanced, firing as they came, fearing that some of the federals might be still entrenched behind the bags of stone and dirt. They hoped thus to draw the fire of any lurking enemy, but failed to find a single man to oppose them.

No Superior Officers.

The most remarkable part of the fight put up by the federal garrison and the volunteers within the city limits is the fact that during most of the day's fighting and during all that of the long night of incessant vigilance and continuous firing, they were practically without superior officers. Lr. Barragan, mayor of the city, who was reported in last night's dispatches to have been killed, made his escape to the American side in the afternoon.

Cobb's Hitting.

Ty Cobb climbed two points by getting two hits in four times up Wednesday. Here are his figures to date:

	G.	AB.	R.	H.	P.C.

Exclusive "More Mileage" advantages in Diamond Tires that cost no more

The greatest mileage at the least expense is what you most desire in a tire.

This is what we have demanded from our Chemists, our Engineers, our Tire Builders and factory experts—and here is their answer—

Diamond (No Clinch) Tires

Chemists: Vitalized Rubber—pure; lusty, young rubber put through a process that toughens and makes it road-resisting, with no loss of life or elasticity.

Engineers: Perfect 3-Point Rim Contact, that prevents all forms of rim troubles, such as cutting against the rim and breaking above the bead.

Tire Builders: A No-Clinch more air-room tire, giving added resiliency and perfect balanced construction.

Then we protected the inner tube with a No-Pinch Safety Flap.

And, best of all, these exclusive Diamond advantages cost you no more. They insure liberal mileage and freedom from tire troubles.

So this time buy Diamond Vitalized Rubber Tires—you can get them to fit your rims at any of the

25,000 Diamond Dealers always at your Service

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The realty market of Wednesday was without startling announcements. Inquiries ought into the offices of various agencies, however, indicate a picking up shortly.

Through Forrest and George Adair, and Earle Green, of the Thomson and Lyman agency, the Rand estate has sold to Robert E. Riley a large vacant lot on Piedmont avenue, facing the park, for consideration of $10,000.

The lot is on the west side of the avenue, 115 feet north of Fourteenth street. The dimensions are 70x251.

ATLANTA'S GROWTH

AND WHAT IT MEANS

THE OTHER DAY we told you about Atlanta—told you in incontrovertible figures how Atlanta has grown—is growing.

The average man of business seldom stops to think about the growth going on around him, and only appreciates it when the facts and figures are brought briefly and bluntly to his attention.

THEN HE WAKES UP!

WE WANT you to wake up and get wise to another important fact:

ATLANTA IS ALREADY BUILT UP IN HOMES RIGHT TO

PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK

IT IS the growth—the RAPID GROWTH—we told you about that has carried it there.

PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK IS THE BEST, THE HIGHEST CLASS, AND IN EVERY WAY THE MOST ATTRACTIVE RESIDENCE PROPERTY ATLANTA NOW OFFERS.

WE MAKE this statement without qualification or reservation. We put the property up as evidence of the truth of it, and with that we are willing to leave it to your judgment.

With Atlanta building 2,000 homes every year to supply the growing demand, in two or three years PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK will have been BUILT UP AND YOU WILL BE TOO LATE TO GET THE LOT YOU WANT AT ANYTHING LIKE THE PRICE AND TERMS AT WHICH YOU CAN GET IT TODAY.

JUST GO OUT AND LOOK AT THIS PROPERTY—THAT'S ALL WE ASK. THEN

SEE YOUR OWN REAL ESTATE AGENT ABOUT IT

Or, come and let us show it to you

FOR SALE AT

— A-U-C-T-I-O-N —

SIX UP-TO-DATE HOMES

And 19 Ready-to-Build-on Lots

SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1913,

At 3 p. m., on the Premises.

THESE are 5 and 6-room houses, with every city convenience and connection, including furnace in several of the houses, but no gas as yet. These houses were built of the best material, under the personal direction of Colonel I. N. Ragsdale, who could not be induced to build a shoddy house.

These houses are real city homes, located in the social center of the Tenth Ward, and only a step from the best car service in Atlanta.

We urge you to go out and inspect this property. Each house will be plainly placarded, showing cash payment and monthly payments; also the amount of the loan to be assumed.

THESE HOUSES ARE NOW RENTED, and bring in from $18.50 to $30.00 per month. Think of what a help that will be to you, in meeting your payments, should you not be ready to occupy the house.

The houses and lots front on the following streets:

Arlington Avenue, Princess Avenue, and LaRosa Terrace.

Arlington Avenue runs off of Lee Street, right at Colonel Ragsdale's handsome home. Princess Avenue runs off of Avon (Oakland) Avenue, between the Baptist church and Captain E. P. Ryan's fine home, giving the property two approaches, each of which is a prominent street.

THIS SECTION HAS NO OBJECTIONABLE FEATURE

It is logically the place for the people to live who are engaged in business, or who are employed among the many industrial and manufacturing and railroad enterprises around the Terminal Station, Whitehall Street, Mitchell Street, and the Central and West Point railroads, and the adjacent territory. The car service and the way the streets run prove these statements to be true. Think about it, and you'll see it as we do.

THE LOTS ARE READY TO BUILD ON

These are the lots to buy, either for home sites or for speculation, because they are ready to build on. In addition to this, every lot is a beauty, with nice young oak shade trees scattered over them. Also, because their location is excellent. They are only a short distance from the business center of Oakland City. Only two blocks from the City School, and near the churches; and the farthest lot is only two blocks from the car line; and, best of all, they are socially in the swim, and

ALL CITY IMPROVEMENTS DOWN AND PAID FOR.

THE TERMS ON THE HOUSES

will range from $150 to $250 cash, and the payments will range from $22.50 per month to $32.50 per month, with 6 per cent simple interest. Small loan on five of the houses, to be assumed by the purchaser.

THE TERMS ON THE LOTS

are right. Every lot will be sold on terms of $50 cash, and the balance $15 per month, with only 6 per cent simple interest on the deferred payments.

HOW TO GET THERE—Take cars at the corner of Forsyth and Alabama streets, marked "East Point," "Hapeville" or "College Park." Get off at the corner of Avon (Oakland Avenue). You will then be only a step from this property.

COME AND BE SURE TO BUY—You will never regret it if you do, and you will be sorry if you don't. Get plans from

REJOINDER OF JAPAN DELIVERED TO BRYAN

It Invites Further Discussion of Controverted Points in the Webb Anti-Alien Law.

Washington, June 4.—Japan's rejoinder to the United States' reply to her protest against the California anti-alien land law, delivered personally by Ambassador Chinda to Secretary Bryan late today, sets out why the Tokio government continues to regard the Webb law as discriminatory against Japanese in derogation of the qualities of treatment prescribed by international law, and a violation of the treaty of 1911.

Nothing in the nature of an ultimatum is contained in the note. Its general tone is to invite further discussion of the controverted points, and it contains nothing tending to make up a final issue. Secretary Bryan and the ambassador agreed that no details should be made public.

The Japanese note was very long and of its nature entirely argumentative. Secretary Bryan and Ambassador Chinda were in accord that no good purpose could be served at this time by a public discussion of the delicate question and therefore both officials gave notice that any attempt to publish what might purport to be even the substance of the three communications which now have have passed between the two governments must be based entirely upon speculation. It is known, however, that the whole tone of the rejoinder today is that of a dignified and orderly presentation of Japan's view on the case, concluding with an invitation to further negotiations.

FORMER DETECTIVE TO HEAD TABERNACLE

Lincoln McConnell, Distinguished Evangelist, Wires Acceptance of Call.

Lincoln McConnell, distinguished lecturer-evangelist-humanitarian, has accepted the pastorate of the Atlanta Baptist tabernacle, and will assume active charge September 1.

Definite acceptance of the call was received yesterday, when A. C. Boatman, chairman of the pulpit supply committee of the tabernacle, received the following telegram:

"I have arrange lyceum contract to suit, and am pleased to state that I can accept the tabernacle pastorate. I cannot reach Atlanta until September 1, but will arrange to take charge at that time. Am in the great revival meeting here, which will take entire month.

"LINCOLN MCONNELL,
"Cape Girardeau, Mo."

Not Afraid to Preach Truth.

"Our city dads had better get through their squabbling before McConnell comes," said Mr. Boatman, to a Constitution reporter. "He is one man who is not afraid to preach the truth, and he certainly will show up the evil of this city, if there is any to show up.

"His salary will be something like $5,000 per year, and then we will have to allow him about three months a year or so for the fulfilling of his lyceum contracts.

Until Dr. McConnell arrives, Dr. E. M. Poteat, president of Furman university, Greenville, S. C., will supply the pulpit, beginning with next Sunday.

Third Regular Pastor.

Dr. McConnell will be the third regular pastor which the tabernacle has had, the other two being Dr. Len G. Broughton, the founder, who at present is in charge of Christ church, London, and Dr. R. S. McArthur, who resigned a few months ago, and returned to New York.

It was largely due to Dr. McConnell that Wesley Memorial church in this city was founded, which was some years ago when he was in the Methodist church. Later he joined the Baptist faith.

For a number of years he was a city detective in Atlanta, and made an enviable record as a man-hunter. Now he is a soul hunter.

"I have rented 8 rooms with board in 4 days through want ads in The Constitution's Classified.
(Signed.) "Mrs. J. S——
"— South Pryor."

No reason why you can't do the same if you have rooms for rent and seek boarders. Nothing beats one trial but a second. Have you made the first?

POISONED WHISKY KILLS POSTMASTER

Abbeville Man Receives Flask Supposed to Have Contained Bichloride.

Abbeville, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—L. P. Wimberly, the local postmaster, died here yesterday from the effects of drinking whisky that is supposed to have contained bichloride of mercury. Just how the postmaster got hold of the whisky is uncertain, as the family will not talk, but it is believed that a flask containing it was handed to him through the general delivery window of the office.

It is also believed that some one with designs upon Mr. Wimberly's life handed him the whisky. Detectives have been put on the case and are doing all in their power to unravel the mystery.

Immediately after the postmaster drank some of the contents of the flask, he became violently ill and died several hours later. He leaves a widow and several children.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, June 4.—In face of a sharp decline in the stock exchange, our market has advanced slightly. The improvement was due to a demand by Liverpool from the Lakes and the continent. Spinners abroad, as well as in this country, have been reducing their stock supplies during the past four months, as shown by their takings and stocks. American spinners have been buying today in the south and here to a moderate extent. Buying orders from Liverpool gave the strength to the market. It was thought they would not buy July at this time of the month if they did not intend to receive and use the cotton in Europe. It is evident there is no long interest to be closed out. Reports from Lancashire are that some upon the market today if such had been the case.

Liverpool is due 1 to 2 points up tomorrow.

Dry Goods.

New York, June 4.—The dry goods markets are characterized by steadiness in the jobbing trade, business being restricted mostly, while stocks are generally light in first and second hands.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, June 4.—In spite of the bearishness at Wall street, there was a good tone to the market today. July was particularly strong on the report that about 15,000 bales are to be shipped out of the local stock this month. Reports from the western belt are not as good as they might be and complaints of weevil are beginning to come from Mississippi and Arkansas. The close was steady, with July up eight and new crops three points.

Liverpool is due to come ½ to 1 up.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, June 4.—Cotton seed oil declined 3 shade early under liquidation on the break in hog products, but later the market steadied up on buying of July by refiners and local professional operators. Closing prices were 1 lower to 5 points net higher. Sales 10,700.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON MADE ADVANCE FROM 3 TO 9 POINTS

Liverpool Was Better Than Due and There Was Continental Buying.

New York, June 4.—The cotton market was quiet today, but prices just about recovered yesterday's loss, and the close was steady at a net advance of from 3 to 9 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 point on August, but generally 1 to 2 points lower, under scattered selling, which was encouraged by a favorable view of weather conditions and the bearish average of private crop accounts. Liverpool, however, was a shade better than due, private cables reported continental buying of new crop months, and advices from Moscow said that the official government condition report of Monday had rendered Russian spinners somewhat uneasy and instituted a better demand from that source. This talk of increased interest on the part of foreign spinners seemed to check offerings, to some extent, and the market firmed up shortly after the call, on covering of shorts, foreign buying, and moderate support from local bulls or trade sources.

Rumors that ocean freight room had been engaged for the shipment of fifteen thousand bales from the local stock during June, imparted a relatively firm tone to July contracts, and a flurry of covering was instituted a rise of 11 to 14 points above the closing figures of last night, during the middle of the day. Later delivering followed this advance to the extent of 6 or 7 points above the closing figures of last night, but demand did not become general and the market later eased off a few points from the best.

Houses with southern connections were credited with selling here by balance during the day and the tally around the ring suggested a bearish average of local sentiment, but offerings were at no time very heavy or aggressive and it evidently did not require much buying to impart a generally steady undertone to the situation.

Considerable attention was attracted by the unsettled stock market but Wall street houses were not conspicuous traders and others from that source were pretty well divided.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 4.—The cotton market was moderately depressed today by bearish crop and weather news and the downward trend of prices in the stock market. Poor trade talk in this country, however, was offset by optimistic reports from European trade centers and Liverpool reported spot sales of 10,000 bales for the same time, futures in the English market were not high enough and covering was the downward feature of the local market in the early trading.

On the opening the tone was steady and prices were 4 to 11 points down. Moderate short selling came out on the first call and little later the forecast of showers in the eastern half of the belt increased short offerings. At the low range of the day prices were 11 points under Monday's final figures. From the middle of the morning on the market was very dull, although the afternoon prices had a tendency to recover on profit-taking by the shorts. The war was steady at a net loss of 5 to 7 points.

Reports from the belt indicate that the section was suffering for want of moisture, that temperatures were high without being too high and that the crop was making satisfactory growth. The amounts called fields exceptionally clean and in a fair of cultivation.

WHEAT PRICES FELL ON BREAK IN STOCKS

Market Closed Nervous and Seven-Eighths to One and Three-Eighths Off.

Chicago, June 4.—Wheat prices tumbled today mainly because of the break in the stock market. The close was nervous and 7-8 to 1 1-3 under last night. In fact, there was a net loss of 1-8 to 1-4@3-8, and for corn 1-2@5-8 to 5-8. The outcome as to provisions varied from 7 1-2 decline, to an advance to 1 1-2.

Wheat prices at first were higher, but new investment demands were soon satisfied, and when owners evinced a tendency to realise on holdings, the market balked. Serious reduction in ansas and Oklahoma crop estimates led to a temporary upturn at this juncture, but the depression in Wall street quickly acted as more than an offset. Stop loss orders swept wheat into the pit, especially in the last hour, until some good sized purchases by commission firms just before the close halted the stampede. The rally, however, was not impressive, and attention in the end dwelt most on the financial situation and Washington tariff reports of "free" wheat. Primary receipts of wheat were large at 300,000 bushels, against 258,000 a year ago. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equalled 583,000 bushels.

Corn reacted with wheat, after touching the highest level of the season. The early advance was due chiefly to covering by belated shorts.

Hedging sales and clearances of imports from Canada formed the principal weight on oats.

In provisions, some strength, developed, owing to the corn bulge. Heaviness was the rule later, though, in line with all the other staples on exchange.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, June 4.—Business here today has been very small in volume and prices have ruled dull, a few points advance, due to a lack of selling pressure rather than any particular demand. Weather and crop news at present is favorable to the growing crops with the exception of reports from parts of central and southern Texas, where rain is needed to keep the plant growing. Elsewhere in the belt showers are predicted over tomorrow, which will be of benefit if they occur.

DECLINE IN STOCKS DUE TO LIQUIDATION

Market Was Flooded With Selling Orders at Its Opening. Bonds Weak.

New York, June 4.—Liquidation on a large scale, together with a series of bear drives, caused a severe disturbance in the stock market during the first half of today's session. A rally then occurred, and trading became quieter, with a decided change in prices. The volume of business was much in excess of recent averages, amounting to more than 500,000 shares during the first two hours, when the market was most active.

The initial downward impulse came from London, where American securities were depressed substantially in some instances before the opening here. With the beginning of business the market was flooded with selling orders. Stop loss orders were forced down rapidly in all directions. Of 157 stocks dealt in during the day, about 100 reached new low levels for the year, in some cases the prices were the lowest since the panic of 1907.

Selling for foreign account was again a prominent factor in depressing the market. London offered the international 5s, freely, disposing of £5,000 or more shares here on balance. Another unsettling factor was the unofficial report from Washington that further proceedings against the American Tobacco company and the Standard Oil company were being contemplated by the administration. The tobacco stocks broke badly, American Tobacco dropping 17 points. Denial from Washington that any immediate trust prosecutions were in prospect had a good deal to do with steadying the market later, and during the afternoon prices gradually improved. The upturn seemed to be due largely to short covering, however, and could not be said to represent a change in sentiment.

The further decline in stocks today led to the calling off loans, and while the effect upon the money market has not been pronounced, bankers predicted stiffer rates before the end of the month.

Time money was firmer today, but the bond market was weak, with declines of 1 to 2 points in some cases. Total sales, par value, $2,550,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money and Exchange.

New York, June 4.—Money on call steady at 2½@3% per cent; ruling rate, 2½; closing bid, 2½; offered at 3%.

Time loans firmer; 60 days, 4@4¼ per cent; 90 days, 4¼; six months, 5.

Prime mercantile paper, 5½ per cent.

Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8310 for 60-day bills and $4.8670 for demand.

Commercial bills, $4.82¼.

Bar silver, 49¾.

Mexican dollars, 48.

Government bonds steady; railroad bonds weak.

Coffee.

New York, June 4.—Coffee futures opened barely steady at a decline of 21 to 25 points, under renewed selling for both local and foreign account. Weak cables, reports of a continued slack spot demand, and the larger Brazilian receipts contributed to the heartiness of sentiment and while prices rallied 3 or 4 points from the lowest during the middle of the day on covering of shorts the market became weaker with active months selling about 26 to 30 points under the clos

MACON COPS FIRED FOR GETTING DRUNK

Macon, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—Because they looked too long upon the wine while it was red, two Macon policemen today found themselves without beats to walk. They were Thomas Middleton and W. N. Shinholser, the latter one of the veterans of the local force.

Policeman Middleton was arrested near his home in south Macon last night. He was not only drunk, but is said to have administered a beating to his wife. He was locked up and this morning when taken before Mayor Moore was suspended for thirty days.

Policeman Shinholser was found to be the intoxicated while walking his beat on Cotton avenue. Lieutenant Drew put him in a hack and sent him home and today when he appeared at headquarters he was relieved of his badge and club.

CHARGES LAWYERS SUBSIDIZE PRESS

Macon, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—Indicative of his feelings with reference to the attacks which have been made upon him by the "muckrakers," Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court, in addressing the Mercer law class graduates this afternoon, said:

"I have looked with growing misapprobation on the tendency of the lawyers of today to subsidize the newspaper reporters. This practice is in effect throughout the country, and I want to caution you in this regard. You will find in the end that the lawyer must stand on his own merit after all. The populace watches your actions in the courtroom, and each time that you are prominently mentioned in the press they will begin to suspect a motive for the mention of your name. And don't be afraid of the mucker. Do you know what a mucker is? He is a newspaper reporter. They are everywhere. They seek to damage you, to lie about you, to overthrow you."

Illustrates His Point.

To illustrate his point, Judge Speer called attention to a drawing in a recent publication, showing an eagle perched in a treetop and beneath it, on the ground, a tiger, which berated the eagle for being able to perch himself upo nhis high throne. The title of the picture was "The Mucker."

"No minister in the land is capable of doing greater service to his community than a lawyer, and had I my life to live over again, I would choose the same profession."

CALLS TOBACCO DECREE OBVIOUS SUBTERFUGE

Washington, June 4.—Attorney General McReynolds today declared that he always had regarded the final decree intended to dissolve the tobacco trust as an "obvious subterfuge and a miscarriage of justice," and if there were any proper and just way by which he could cure the evil he would do it. As an immediate step he is considering proposing to congress a graduated excise tax on tobacco manufactures.

The attorney general said that while he had not finally decided upon an investigation of the tobacco situation with a view to possible further anti-trust prosecution, he likewise had not reached a conclusion as to whether the decree of dissolution, which he regards as inadequate, can be reopened. The attorney general indicated that he was firmly convinced that the decree was incommensurate with the demands of the occasion. He declared today that there would be no real dissolution of a trust by distributing its stock among the same shareholders.

Regarding the Standard Oil situation, the attorney general said he was giving serious consideration to the results of the government completed investigation of the working of the dissolution decree, but had not yet decided whether action would be taken.

Commissioner E. E. Clark, commissioner of corporations, after a visit to the white house today, said a report of an investigation the bureau has been making of the tobacco industry since the dissolution decree would soon be forwarded to Attorney General McReynolds for his information. The report is a survey of the effect of the decree upon competition and prices.

MRS. MARTHA LUMPKIN COMPTON, Now of Decatur, from whom Atlanta took her former name, "Marthasville."

Belles and beaux of the sixties and seventies and a few even of the fifties picnicked yesterday at the hospitable home of Mrs. V. P. Sisson in Kirkwood and maids and matrons of today, a few favored ones, joined in and shared the day's happiness.

It was the annual outdoor meeting of the Pioneer Women's society, and at the invitation of Mrs. Sisson, one of the loveliest of the members, they spread at long tables on her wide front lawn their elaborate luncheon, while fruit punch, ice cream and coffee were served from near-by tables under the trees.

Bishop C. K. Nelson led the hymn of praise, in which all joined.

Afterwards with Mrs. Joseph Morgan, president, acting as toastmistress, there were appropriate words spoken by several of the guests of the occasion, among them Mrs. A. P. Coles, representing the heads of Atlanta's largest federated clubs, and Mrs. John A. Perdue representing the regents of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

With a handsome old tree for a background and canopy, Mrs. John M. Slaton was a fair picture when she read an appropriate poem; Miss Edith McCool sang delightfully and Mrs. D. Grant played, in charming manner, the drawing room songs and dances of her girlhood days.

Virginia Reel is Barred.

The music putting the company in gay mood, a Virginia reel was formed, the tucker was danced, and the belles and beaux of pioneer days (for there was present also a number of "pioneer husbands") gave a spirited illustration of how much prettier and more graceful were their dances than those of the present generation. Mrs. Sisson, Mrs. Simpson, and Judge George, of Decatur, led the reel and the quadrille.

Mrs. George Dasher Show played several brilliant piano selections, and Miss Johnson, a talented young violinist, contributed to the program.

A final picture was the presentation to the Pioneer society of a beautiful quilt made by Mrs. Martha Atlanta Lumpkin Compton, an honor guest, Mrs. Morgan making the presentation speech, while Miss Caroline Larendon, Mrs. Sisson's niece, held aloft the quilt. It was made from two silk dresses, bought by Mrs. Compton when she was a girl out of the money paid her by her brothers for cording the cotton, which they raised.

Athens, Home of Mrs. White, Enthuses Over Woman's Edition

Athens, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The mammoth edition of The Constitution which came to Athens this morning was greeted by exclamations of surprise and delight—for though the Athens people, where the late president of the Women's club, Mrs. Ella F. White, made her home from the time she became a bride till her death, were expecting a great paper, they were overwhelmed with the handsome 126-page edition. Not only did the women who did such splendid work come in for the praise, but the management of the paper who made the enterprise possible, also received commendation for their generous treatment of the project.

The page advoted to the University of Georgia was paid for by the personal subscriptions of the professors at the institution, in honor of the wife of their fellow-teacher, Dr. White, the subscription being made necessary on account of lack of funds for advertising.

FOR $40 WAGER ROLLS WHEELBARROW 30 MILES

Perry, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—George B. Wells, a young man of the city, took up a "dare" that he would not roll a wheelbarrow to Macon for a purse of $10, made by his friends. A subscription was started and a purse of $40 was raised. On Monday morning at 3:18 o'clock Mr. Wells started between the handles of a wheelbarrow from the courthouse on his journey to roll the wheelbarrow to the courthouse in Macon, thirty miles. At 2:40 o'clock he completed the journey, rolling his wheelbarrow up to the courthouse in Macon. He came back in an automobile this morning, arriving here about 8 o'clock.

LIGHTNING AND HAIL RUIN TOBACCO FARMS

Faceville, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—During a severe rain and electric storm yesterday, lasting four hours, a tobacco barn on the Duke farm, two miles north of Faceville, owned by the American Sumatra Tobacco company, was set on fire by lightning and completely destroyed, the loss being about $7500. Also a barn on a tobacco farm at Fowlstown, owned by Chason & Cummins, of Donalsonville, was struck by lightning and burned about the same time. This makes the third barn destroyed near here in this manner within a month. Practically all of the tobacco on the Fowlstown Tobacco company's farm was destroyed yesterday by severe hail. The plants were stripped from the stalks. The ground is being cleared of the ruined tobacco today. The loss is about $2,000.

City Federation to Hold Annual Meeting Friday

The city federation will hold its annual meeting on Friday, June 6. The morning session at 10:30 will be devoted to reports of the clubs, with an afternoon session at 3 p. m. to civics.

The federation has grown in the fourteen years of its existence until today it includes almost every philanthropic, ethical and civic movement in Atlanta, numbering in all 84 organizations.

With Mrs. Charles J. Haden as president, work the past year has expanded and splendid results have been accomplished toward the crystallizing of a higher civic ideal for Atlanta.

Of particular interest was the fact that she was instrumental in securing a bequest of $500 for improvement of Mim's park, $2,500 for improvement of the Davis street school yards.

Forty thousand pledges were the result of "cleaning-up day," the chamber of commerce again co-operating with the federation. Additional scholarships have been given and $100 to student's aid.

Hon. Horace McFarland, president of the American Civic league, was secured by joint efforts of the chamber of commerce and the city federation. From his lecture Atlanta's Civic Improvement commission was organized with an auxiliary of ladies from the city federation appointed by the mayor Mrs. Charles J. Haden, Mrs. W. L. Piel, Mrs. Edward Brown, Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. J. E. Sommerfeld, Mrs. E. L. Connally, Mrs. J. K. Ottley, Mrs. Samuel Brady, Mrs. Hartwell Spain, Mrs. W. B. Cummings.

Mrs. Haden has added the following strong committee and departments of work to the federation: Appreciation, complaint, city plan, care of vacant lots, drama, civil service reform, world's peace, industrial home for wayward girls, vocational training, better housing for tenants and household economics.

Two new calendar days have been established, Burroughs day, and junior civic day on Uncle Remus' birthday, December 9.

There has been scarcely a day during the entire year that the federation has not been asked to aid in some charity and public welfare.

Sixteen new organizations have joined the federation this year. They are:

Ladies of the Maccabees.
Washington Seminary Alumnae association.
Brenau Alumnae association.
Burroughs club.
East Point Woman's club.
Newnan Woman's club.
Atlanta Registered Nurses' association.
Booklovers' club.
Kirkwood Civic league.
Junior Civic League of Davis Street school.
Players' club.
Porter Springs Educational association.
Woman's Auxiliary Wesley Memorial hospital.
Inman Park Girls' club.
Pen and Brush club.
Peeples Street Improvement club.

Classroom Shop Work Exhibit Given by Tech High School

The Technological High school of Atlanta yesterday held for the benefit of the eighth grade school graduates an exhibit of class room shop work in woodcraft and metal, which it is claimed, is unsurpassed by any technological high school in the south.

Principal C. S. Culver says he finds nothing that resembles it in boobdom in a thirteenth year, but quite the opposite. The year 1913 found this high school ending with a banner year that has been unsurpassed by its annual records since its installation in 1908.

There were no graduates this year on account of the fourth year course, added at the beginning of the term in September. Two hundred boys comprised the enrollment of 1912-13. An additional hundred are expected for next year.

Judging by this, and by the necessity for more room and additional equipments, Tech Hi think they have sufficient grounds for the demand of a new and more complete building that will give the boys ample opportunity in which to further their desires and more "elbow room" in which to display their skill. That this is an absolute necessity was yesterday demonstrated by the way in which grammar school graduates flocked to this Marietta street institution to inspect the school that would be their home for the next four years.

The school as it stands is now crowded with its present enrollment and in order to accommodate the steadily increasing throng additional quarters must be added in the very near future. Principal Culver asks every student and future student to enlist in a campaign for a new building, and asks them and the press to "talk it up" everywhere the opportunity presents.

The Tech High school is under the jurisdiction of the city board of education and is a free school for any Atlanta boy having completed the grammar school course of study, or its equivalent. Its graduates are qualified to enter the sophomore class of Georgia Tech and that its courses of study are properly related is the only connection it has with that college.

Rome Teachers Re-Elected.

Rome, Ga., June 4.—(Special.)—The board of education and every member of the old corps with the exception of two, one of whom was Professor C. D. Meadows, of the grammar schools, who resigned to accept the superintendency of the Dalton system. L. B. Brown, principal of the colored schools, and his wife were not elected.
